Scranton Sets Mideast Trip For Nixon

NEW YORK (AP) — President-elect Richard M. Nixon will send former Gov. William S. Scranton of Pennsylvania to Israel and neighboring Arab nations next week to bring himself up to the minute on the potentially explosive Mideast situation.

It was learned late Thursday that Nixon will send Scranton on the trip to gather information Nixon will need as chief executive. Among the Arab countries that are expected to be on the itinerary are the United Arab Republic, Jordan, Lebanon, Saudi Arabia and Iran.

The fact that this was Nixon's second overseas assignment for Scranton since the beginning of the presidential campaign added new impetus to speculation that Scranton might be tapped for either secretary of state or U.S. ambassador to the United Nations in the new administration.

Scranton, after returning from a European fact-finding mission for Nixon, said he had no further aspirations for official positions. But he steered clear of declaring he would not accept a high post were one offered.

In 1964, Scranton made an unsuccessful effort to wrest the GOP presidential nomination from Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona.

Aides said Nixon is meeting today with staff advisers—not callers from outside the inner circle. Next week the flow of appointments with outsiders will resume—before the president-elect takes off Thursday for a few days in California that will encompass an address before the Republican Governors Association meeting at Palm Springs.

The Nixon family made a flying visit to Washington Thursday to share Thanksgiving with ailing former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and his family.

Lakes Ships In Collision During Storm

DETROIT (AP)—Two Great Lakes freighters collided in a gale-force storm which raked the lower Detroit River suddenly late Thursday.

Damage from the storm was reported as far south as Monroe, but no injuries, a board of ships or elsewhere, were reported.

While both freighters suffered extensive damage, they were able to limp to Detroit - area docks under their own power.

The northbound Diamond Alkali, loaded with coal, and the empty southbound Sylvania collided in the 600-foot wide channel between Wyandotte and Fighting Island at 6 p.m.

The storm felled trees and knocked down utility poles on nearby Grosse Ile and ripped a section of roof 70 by 25 feet off a building under construction just north of Monroe. Some trees were felled in the Monroe area and some sheds bowled over.

The Diamond Alkali is a 600-foot, 12,500-ton, self-unloading motorship owned by the American Steamship Co. of Buffalo, N. Y. It finally tied up at its destination, the Semei - Solvay division of Allied Chemical Co. in southwest Detroit.

The Sylvania is a 572-foot, 11,000-ton self-unloader owned by the Tomlinson Fleet Corp. of Cleveland, Ohio. It turned about and docked at the Great Lakes Steel Corp. in suburban Ecorse.

Also a coal carrier, the Sylvania had just unloaded at a Detroit Edison power plant and was headed for Toledo, Ohio.

A hole was torn in the Sylvania above the water line and the Diamond Alkali was crunched in about the bow. Damage estimates were withheld, pending a Coast Guard investigation of the collision.

Full Cease-Fire Is Given Priority By South Vietnam

PARIS (AP) — A top South Vietnamese spokesman said today an early cease-fire is a major priority in his government's peace plan, being prepared for presentation at the expanded talks here.

Nguyen Van An, the deputy chief of Saigon's observer mission in Paris, said South Vietnam also will demand "strong and effective international guarantees" in any final settlement.

The North Vietnamese and the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front have said a cease-fire is unlikely to be discussed until later in the negotiating process. They have said such discussion must be preceded by the withdrawal of American and other foreign troops from South Vietnam.

Van An spoke in an interview as Ambassador W. Averell Harriman, chief of the U.S. delegation, prepared to head home Sunday for a brief Washington visit.

Vietnam consultations were not listed as the main reason for his return, but Harriman was expected to confer with Pentagon officials on the fourteenth conference in which Saigon will participate.

The expanded parley now is expected to get going in the second week in December. The Saigon delegation, whose absence held up the meeting for a month, is due in Paris next week.

Hanoi's insistence that it will only talk to the United States and the refusal of South Vietnam and the NLF to recognize each others will make four-way conversation difficult when the expanded talks begin.

Van An indicated the Saigon delegation will present its peace plan to the conference after the

Thanksgiving Storm Rakes Midwest, Moves Northeast

U.S. Troops Pursue Reds

SAIGON (AP) — Helicopterborne U.S. Air Cavalrymen leapt along the Cambodian border today in pursuit of enemy troops fleeing to their sanctuaries after fierce Thanksgiving Day fighting.

U.S. headquarters said 25 enemy soldiers were killed in one battle during which helicopters and Air Force bombers sprayed the area with machine gun fire, rockets, bombs and cannons. No U.S. casualties were reported.

The new action raised to 288 the number of enemy troops killed in the last two days and to 426 the number of enemy slain since the first of the week in major fighting along the Cambodian border north of Saigon.

U.S. losses for the same period were 26 killed and 54 wounded. South Vietnam lost 10 dead and 20 wounded.

It was the heaviest fighting in the area since mid-September when a drive by the Communist command against the border provinces was beaten back.

The U.S. Command said constant pressure is being maintained on the 15,000 to 20,000 enemy troops believed deployed along the 100-mile stretch of Cambodian border.

In Laos, a country through which North Vietnam funnels the bulk of its supplies and troops along the Ho Chi Minh trail, to South Vietnam the Cabinet was called into emergency session today.

The group met to discuss reports of impending attack by 30,000 North Vietnamese troops on Attopeu and Saravane, two towns in the corner formed by Cambodia and northern South Vietnam. A Laotian army general said the move would follow attacks on Ban Thateng, 25 miles south of Saravane on Wednesday.

22 Persons Hurt In 11-Car Crash On Ohio Turnpike

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP)—Twenty-two persons were injured—three of them seriously—in an 11-car pileup on the Ohio turnpike Bridge over the Black River Thursday.

The state highway patrol said the chain-reaction pileup started when one driver slowed to look at an earlier accident.

The bridge was slippery from heavy rains, and the car skidded out of control. Ten other cars that were following piled up.

Listed in fair condition at Elyria Memorial Hospital were Rosemary Suess, 27, of Middletown, Wis.; Mrs. Leona Oden, 66, of Chicago; and James Welsh, 68, of Rockford, Ill.

The other 19 persons were treated and released.

New Major Explosion Rips Mine Where 78 Trapped

MANNINGTON, W.Va. (AP) — Another "major explosion" ripped through No. 9 today, spewing smoke and flame from the mine's Llewellyn portal near the area where 78 men have been trapped nine days.

The early-morning blast, the 16th since the initial explosion Nov. 20, sent flames and a column of white smoke spiraling above the entrance.

Officials directing efforts to rescue the entombed miners promised a "very, very comprehensive evaluation" of the situation within the sprawling mine today.

Drillings made by boring through to the deep caverns below produced air samples showing high concentrations of deadly carbon monoxide and dangerous methane gas.

Peter P. Ferretti, a vice president of Consolidation Coal Co., said the latest testings Thursday night were taken from an area where the men had been trained to go in case of disaster.

He described the testing area as a "very critical place." The carbon monoxide level was 50 times human capability while the methane concentration was 26.4 per cent. He said there is danger of explosion when methane reaches a level of between 5 and 15 per cent.

Ferretti said "we will make some decision" after the evaluation today.

Ferretti, asked Thursday night if the drill sites showed the same deadly air samples would mean sealing the mine, replied: "I can't comment on that. This, of course, is a possibility. All the information at this time doesn't look good. It doesn't look encouraging."

The mine normally draws air from one opening, through the tunnels and out another opening. When methane builds up, the officials said, the flow is reversed and air is drawn in from both ends. This feeds the fire which in turn ignites the methane and produces an explosion.

The 78 men were trapped Nov. 20 when a blast tore through the mine, owned by the Mountaineer Coal Co., a subsidiary of Consolidation. Twenty-one other miners escaped.

Hruska Eyes GOP Senate Whip's Job

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nebraska's Roman L. Hruska plans a hard campaign for the post of assistant Republican leader, or party whip, in the Senate, but says he doesn't want "a bloody field with bodies lying around."

"I am not standing idly by. I am seeking the post," Hruska, just back from a trip abroad, told an interviewer.

The whip job was opened up by the primary defeat of California's Thomas H. Kuchel, a liberal-moderate Republican. The only other announced candidate for the job is Pennsylvania's Hugh Scott, also a liberal-moderate.

Scott notified his colleagues by letter that he wants the job, but other than that his campaigning has been behind the scenes.

While Hruska was in Europe last week, his supporters said they already had commitments from 23 of the 42 Republican senators in the new Congress—more than enough to insure his election.

Scott's backers disagree, saying the contest is still wide open.

"We're certainly not going to leave a bloody field with bodies lying around," Hruska said in discussing the contest. "But I have made it known to my colleagues that I aspire to it and that I hope they feel I could make the judgments the post of whip requires."

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen has indicated he would like to avoid a party-splitting fight by a compromise under which Hruska would be the assistant leader and Scott would be chairman of the Senate GOP Policy Committee, a position that will offer little more than a platform for dissent.

Snow, Rains Hammer Much Of Mid-U.S.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A fierce November storm swirled into the northeast today after lashing the Midwest with snow, sleet, heavy rain and wind.

The storm, which crept out of Mexico early in the week, then dawdled over Texas storing up moisture and power, galloped across the Southern plains, the Midwest and Ohio Valley Thanksgiving Day.

The holiday weather effects were numerous and widespread: flood-swollen rivers and streams in middle Tennessee, snow-coated landscape and highways intermittently from Missouri to Michigan. Rains measuring more than 6 inches swamped Tennessee from the Mississippi River to the Cumberland Mountains Thursday. After a day of warnings of possibly serious flooding on the Harpeth River near Nashville, the Weather Bureau stopped its flood bulletins late Thursday and indicated the threat had passed.

Heavy rains ranged northward across Illinois and South and West into Mississippi and Arkansas, where some flooding was reported.

Snow mixed with sleet made holiday travel treacherous north of the rain area. Two to 5 inches of snow whitened the area from northeastern Missouri into central Lower Michigan. Up to 8 inches covered some northern Lower Michigan communities.

High winds accompanied the daylong downpours across the Midwest, and into the Northeast today. Gale warnings continued on all the Great Lakes and were extended to include the Northeast Atlantic Coast.

Minor damages were reported as a result of the strong wind gusts that struck the area Thursday night.

The majority of phone outages have been taken care of according to Keith Wagner, local manager for General Telephone. He reported no major outages and added there may be a few isolated cases to be restored to working order.

Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co. told the Herald office that there was no damage to utility units while South Central, serving the rural areas had service restored to users by 11:30 p.m. last night. They reported damage to service lines caused by downed trees. There were few outages reported.

Youth Walks Through Snow For Help After Plane Crash

EUREKA, Utah (AP) — As his parents and sister lay pinned in the wreckage of their airplane Thanksgiving eve, 15-year-old William Rigby set off into a snowstorm to find help.

"My dad was pinned underneath the instrument panel," William, the son of Beverly Hills, Calif., heart surgeon Dr. Elmer C. Rigby Jr., said Thursday. "My sister was caught beneath two chairs. Mom was trapped beneath the wreckage. I knew I had to get some help." He freed himself from the wreckage of the twin-engine plane and started walking—in the wrong direction.

Then he spotted headlights on U.S. 50-6 and turned toward the road. He had walked about four miles over snow-covered ground.

An unidentified Nevada motorist stopped, picked up the boy, carefully marked his mileage, drove 10 miles north to Eureka and led rescuers directly to the spot where he picked up the youth, said Sheriff A. Duane Sperry.

"It was good thing, too, because I think those people would have frozen to death if we'd had to search for the plane," Sperry said.

Officers followed the boy's tracks back to the wreckage. "The plane appeared to have come down hard, rolled on its side and finally came to rest on its top. It was literally torn apart by the impact," the sheriff said.

The boy's mother, Penelope, 46, was dead on arrival at Juab County Hospital.

His 53-year-old father was in poor condition today at University Hospital in Salt Lake City. The prominent physician, one of the first to perform open heart surgery in the Los Angeles area, suffered chest injuries, broken legs, back and head injuries, Nikola Rigby, 16, was in satisfactory condition with a broken leg.

Another daughter, Judith, 21, would have been on the flight from Van Nuys airport to Salt Lake, to spend Thanksgiving with Dr. Rigby's parents, but she missed a connection in traveling from Berkeley to Beverly Hills. She attends the University of California. William told officers the flight began in good weather. But snow and fog closed in and the plane began icing up.

"Dad decided to circle for a few minutes. Then he said he was going to make an emergency landing," William told Sheriff Sperry.

Sperry said the doctor apparently mistook a plowed field for a road about a mile west of U.S. 50-6. The plane touched down, hit a depression and flipped over.

U.S. diplomats have tended to doubt the realism of pressing for a cease-fire as the first negotiating item to end the guerrilla-type war.

Instead, they have been considering ways to bargain for de-escalation as a first step toward eventually ending all hostilities.

Bundesrat Passes Law On Finances

BONN (AP) — The West German Bundesrat, upper house, today unanimously passed an emergency law to ease the world's financial crisis and forestall revaluation of the German mark.

It provides for a 4 per cent tax on West German exports and a 4 per cent cut in import taxes. It goes into effect Saturday.

Passage by the upper house was only a formality following the Bundestag's parliament approval Thursday night.

Exempted from the export tax are all contracts signed before Nov. 23 and due to be completed before Dec. 23. There also are provisions for exporters to appeal to the Finance Ministry for exemption on contracts which will not be completed by Dec. 23.

Agricultural products are exempt from the new tax.

The measures were decided during a meeting of central European bankers in Bonn two weeks ago.

Scattered Protests Mark Thanksgiving In America

The traditional "thanks" of Thanksgiving Day, a holiday uniquely American among nations of the world, was tempered this year by scattered protests over those in need in a land of plenty.

While thousands of families sat down to turkey dinners with all the trimmings, 10 members of the War Resisters League fasted outside a fashionable Beverly Hills, Calif., restaurant charging that "Americans are gluttons while millions starve."

During the annual Macy's Thanksgiving Day parade in Manhattan, featuring eight giant helium-filled balloons of cartoon characters, welfare protesters handed out leaflets to many of the 2.5 million spectators, at least half of them reading, "Thanks for nothing."

A spokesman said the protest

was staged to show that "many thousands of poor children in this city and country will face empty plates today."

At Albany College, 10 students and an adviser ended a four-day fast Thursday aimed at calling attention to hunger.

But thousands of the "have-nots" also sat down to holiday dinners, thanks to social agencies and organizations such as the Salvation Army, which played host to 1,900 homeless or needy at centers it operates in Manhattan, Brooklyn, the Bronx and Staten Island in New York City.

Two churches, in Harlem and the Bedford Stuyvesant section of Brooklyn, served needy or aged neighbors in church halls.

Symbolizing the holiday scene around the nation was the family gathering on the Texas ranch of President and Mrs. Johnson, celebrating with their daughters, grandchildren and friends.

Missing from the Johnson festive board—again typical of hundreds of homes across the land—were the Johnsons' sons-in-law, Airman I.C. Patrick J. Nugent and Marine Maj. Charles S. Robb, both serving in Vietnam. The two young men were among 536,000 U.S. troops eating holiday dinners far from their native hearth.

Policy Paper For Italy Is Published

ROME (AP) — While political leaders moved toward formation of a new center-left government, Italy's Christian Democratic party issued a position paper stressing school reform, support for the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and cooperation with developing nations.

The Socialists and the tiny Republican party were studying the paper to see if it could form the platform for a new government.

Premier-designate Mariano Rumor so far has met acceptance from a majority of all three parties. On Thursday an aide said Rumor hoped to have his Cabinet formed and approved by Parliament before Christmas.

Rumor's Christian Democrat party said Thursday night that it played its best card in designating him to form a government. If Rumor fails, the party said new parliamentary elections probably would be called.

"The fundamental need," said the Christian Democrat paper, "is an autonomous majority capable of sustaining a confrontation with the opposition without confusion and which is distinguished by its global outlook and clarity of acts and objectives."

The strongest opposition to a government under Rumor would be Italy's Communist party, the largest in the West, and its ally, the Proletarian Socialist party.

New York Strikes Settled, Now Utility Walkout Slated

Judge Orders Special Meet Of Grand Jury

A special session of the Pickaway County Grand Jury has been ordered by Common Pleas Court Judge William Ammer.

Ammer stated that he would reconvene the September term of the Grand Jury for Wednesday. Cases involving the recent riot and attempted break from the county jail are anticipated.

County Prosecutor Robert Huffer stated that seven or eight cases would be presented to the Grand Jury during the coming session. This will be the third time that the September term Grand Jury has been called since its first session in Sept. 9.

Some cases in addition to those involving the jail incident can be expected, according to Huffer.

Stock Market Shows Gain

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market continued its advance in fairly active trading early this afternoon.

Gains outnumbered losses by about 370 issues on the New York Stock Exchange.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 2.1 at 367.3 with industrials up 2.3, rails up 2.1 and utilities unchanged.

Analysts saw the market as in a technically strong condition. Further reason for the purchase of stocks as a hedge against inflation was supplied by the October rise in the Consumer Price index at an annual rate of 7.2 per cent, the fastest pace in six years.

A solid advance by steels was accompanied by increasing shipments of steel products.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 4.54 at 980.86. If held to the close, this would be another new high for 1968.

Prices on the American Stock Exchange were mostly higher in active trading.

Man Bound To Jury For Bad Check

Roy Fausnaugh, Circleville, was bound to the next term of the Pickaway County Grand Jury Wednesday when he pleaded guilty to writing a check when he had no account.

The charge against Fausnaugh was filed in Circleville Municipal Court by Wanda Stumbo. Fausnaugh passed the bad check in the amount of $10 at the South End Market.

Judge Sterling Lamb set bond at $500.

Wrenches Stolen

Merle Campbell, assistant manager of the Landmark Store, reported to Circleville Police at 4 p.m. Wednesday that a wrench set valued at $19.95 had been stolen from the store.

Theft Mars Thanksgiving

Windows of a car were broken and a pair of shoes were stolen from a Lancaster man who was away visiting his family for Thanksgiving.

James Edwards had left his car at the Quality Courts Motel about 10 a.m. Thursday and went with his cousin to celebrate the holiday.

When he returned to his car about 9:30 p.m. he found the right window broken and shoes and a shoebag valued at $15 stolen.

The incident is still under investigation by the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department.

Motorist Forfeits Bond In Court

James Bailey, 27, 337 E. Mound St., forfeited a $24 bond when he failed to appear in Circleville Municipal Court for failure to obey a traffic signal.

Bailey was cited by Circleville police. Other motorists paid fines, costs and bond forfeitures totaling $82 in Court.

New Yorkers, who have already weathered police and firemen slowdowns and teachers and sanitationmen's strikes in 1968, braced today for a Sunday walkout by 20,000 workers at the Consolidated Edison Co.

Charles F. Luce, Con Ed board chairman, told 9,000,000 customers Thursday to expect "less than normal service" if the walkout occurs and appealed to the public to limit electrical usage during peak demand hours from 4 p.m. to 9 p.m.

Luce said 4,000 supervisors would attempt to provide "essential" gas and electrical service for an indefinite period. "We are confident we can operate the system," he said, but added, "It will be a challenge."

The workers, members of Local 1-2 of the AFL-CIO Utility Workers of America, surprised their leaders and Con Ed officials by rejecting a proposed two-year contract Wednesday.

Snow, Rains

Outside the storm area, portions of Colorado and Wyoming received up to 6 inches of snow, and Colorado ski areas reported an unusually large number of skiers for a Thanksgiving.

Ahead of the storm, much of the Eastern seaboard was fanned by September-like mildness during the night. Low temperatures in the 60s were common from Washington to Boston.

In contrast, Arctic cold numbed the northern Rockies. Laramie, Wyo., registered an ear-stinging 3 below zero before dawn.

And heavy-snow warnings were issued for mountain areas of New Mexico.

Check Forger Sentenced 1-20 Years

A Cincinnati man charged with passing forged checks in Circleville was tried and sentenced to prison by Common Pleas Court Judge William Ammer Friday.

Eddie Isome had been indicted Sept. 9, by the September term of the Pickaway County Grand Jury for passing a forged check of $129.22 at Bingham Drug Store on June 26.

Isome entered a plea of guilty to the charge Friday morning and was sentenced by Judge Ammer to 1-20 years at the Ohio State Reformatory at Mansfield.

The other men, charged in a related case, are awaiting trial by jury later this year.

Meanwhile, the commuting challenge for 90,000 daily riders on the Long Island Rail Road appeared ended. Line officials said they expected "full service" but warned of possible delays due to new timetables.

Wildcat strikes by trainmen and engineers snarled service for three days beginning Monday this week. Then holiday snafus caused the cancellation of 20 of 270 runs and delays on 70 more Thursday.

A spokesman attributed the new trouble to problems in getting the men and machinery matched up. "We just didn't get all the guys in the same place with all the equipment," he said.

The line now gets its first test of the new timetables—its first major schedule change in 20 years. The changes, which union members said would cost them overtime pay, were blamed for the walkouts.

Nonprofessional workers who struck four state mental hospitals, disrupting the lives of thousands of patients for more than a week, began returning to the wards Thursday.

NEW YORK (AP) — A mood piece, spun delicately with words, is difficult enough to pull off successfully. And to translate it effectively into another medium, television, is quite an accomplishment indeed.

Yet, for the second time, a sensitive production and acting team has managed to fashion a sensitive, moving and altogether-rememberable occasion out of what must be identified as a semi-autobiographical vignette—drama is too powerful a word—by Truman Capote.

The first was 1966's "A Christmas Memory". On Thursday night it was "The Thanksgiving Memory" and it lived up, surprisingly, to expectations built by the first show.

Geraldine Page once again portrayed Miss Sook, the child-like, romantic and aging spinster with extraordinary human insight, the "best friend" and comforter of Buddy, a small lonely boy living with cousins during a crisis in his own family.

Michael Kearney, once again in the role, was heart-rendingly effective as the boy.

The story line was simple: Buddy was harassed by an older, bigger bully and had no one to turn to except the loving and sympathetic Sookie, herself bullied by two hard-eyed sisters and a stern, unsympathetic brother.

Buddy, too small to stand up to the bully and too young to talk up to his elders, suffered. Miss Sook dreamed of far-away places and pinned all her dreams on selling a cameo pin that she fondly believed was worth enough money to carry her and Buddy from the farm home to the excitements of New Orleans.

The suspense came from Miss Sook's determination to convert the bully by inviting him to their Thanksgiving dinner. The plan worked until Buddy saw his enemy stealing the cameo—piece, spun delicately with words, is difficult enough to pull off successfully. And to translate it effectively into another medium, television, is quite an accomplishment indeed.

Scattered Protests Mark Thanksgiving In America

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The traditional "thanks" of Thanksgiving Day, a holiday uniquely American among nations of the world, was tempered this year by scattered protests over those in need in a land of plenty.

While thousands of families sat down to turkey dinners with all the trimmings, 10 members of the War Resisters League fasted outside a fashionable Beverly Hills, Calif., restaurant charging that "Americans are gluttons while millions starve."

During the annual Macy's Thanksgiving Day parade in Manhattan, featuring eight giant helium-filled balloons of cartoon characters, welfare protesters handed out leaflets to many of the 2.5 million spectators, at least half of them reading, "Thanks for nothing."

A spokesman said the protest

was staged to show that "many thousands of poor children in this city and country will face empty plates today."

At Albany College, 10 students and an adviser ended a four-day fast Thursday aimed at calling attention to hunger.

But thousands of the "have-nots" also sat down to holiday dinners, thanks to social agencies and organizations such as the Salvation Army, which played host to 1,900 homeless or needy at centers it operates in Manhattan, Brooklyn, the Bronx and Staten Island in New York City.

Two churches, in Harlem and the Bedford Stuyvesant section of Brooklyn, served needy or aged neighbors in church halls.

Symbolizing the holiday scene around the nation was the family gathering on the Texas ranch of President and Mrs. Johnson, celebrating with their daughters, grandchildren and friends.

Missing from the Johnson festive board—again typical of hundreds of homes across the land—were the Johnsons' sons-in-law, Airman 1.C. Patrick J. Nugent and Marine Maj. Charles S. Robb, both serving in Vietnam. The two young men were among 536,000 U.S. troops eating holiday dinners far from their native hearth.

New York Strikes Settled, Now Utility Walkout Slated

NEW YORK (AP)—Network television musicians are playing again. Workers at state mental hospitals have returned to the wards, and Long Island Rail Road engineers are back on the track. A labor peace? Not yet—now utility workers are set to walk out.

Judge Orders Special Meet Of Grand Jury

A special session of the Pickaway County Grand Jury has been ordered by Common Pleas Court Judge William Ammer.

Ammer stated that he would reconvene the September term of the Grand Jury for Wednesday. Cases involving the recent riot and attempted break from the county jail are anticipated.

County Prosecutor Robert Huffer stated that seven or eight cases would be presented to the Grand Jury during the coming session. This will be the third time that the September term Grand Jury has been called since its first session in Sept. 9.

Some cases in addition to those involving the jail incident can be expected, according to Huffer.

Stock Market Shows Gain

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market continued its advance in fairly active trading early this afternoon.

Gains outnumbered losses by about 370 issues on the New York Stock Exchange.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 2.1 at 367.3 with industrials up 2.8, rails up 2.1 and utilities unchanged.

Analysts saw the market as in a technically strong condition. Further reason for the purchase of stocks as a hedge against inflation was supplied by the October rise in the Consumer Price index at an annual rate of 7.2 per cent, the fastest pace in six years.

A solid advance by steels was accompanied by increasing shipments of steel products.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 4.54 at 980.88. If held to the close, this would be another new high for 1968.

Prices on the American Stock Exchange were mostly higher in active trading.

Theft Mars Thanksgiving

Windows of a car were broken and a pair of shoes were stolen from a Lancaster man who was away visiting his family for Thanksgiving.

James Edwards had left his car at the Quality Courts Motel about 10 a.m. Thursday and went with his cousin to celebrate the holiday.

When he returned to his car about 9:30 p.m. he found the right window broken and shoes and a shoebag valued at $15 stolen.

The incident is still under investigation by the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department.

Motorist Forfeits Bond In Court

James Bailey, 27, 337 E. Mound St., forfeited a $24 bond when he failed to appear in Circleville Municipal Court for failure to obey a traffic signal.

Bailey was cited by Circleville police. Other motorists paid fines, costs and bond forfeitures totaling $82 in Court.

New Yorkers, who have already weathered police and firemen slowdowns and teachers and sanitationmen's strikes in 1968, braced today for a Sunday walkout by 20,000 workers at the Consolidated Edison Co.

Charles F. Luce, Con Ed board chairman, told 9,000,000 customers Thursday to expect "less than normal service" if the walkout occurs and appealed to the public to limit electrical usage during peak demand hours from 4 p.m. to 9 p.m.

Luce said 4,000 supervisors would attempt to provide "essential" gas and electrical service for an indefinite period. "We are confident we can operate the system," he said, but added, "It will be a challenge."

The workers, members of Local 1-2 of the AFL-CIO Utility Workers of America, surprised their leaders and Con Ed officials by rejecting a proposed two-year contract Wednesday.

Snow, Rains

(Continued from Page 1) — the steel superstructure for a high school auditorium being built north of Indianapolis. Damage was estimated at nearly a quarter-million dollars. Eastward in Ohio, the gusts knocked out power in many parts of Cincinnati and smashed numerous store display windows.

Outside the storm area, portions of Colorado and Wyoming received up to 6 inches of snow, and Colorado ski areas reported an unusually large number of skiers for a Thanksgiving.

Ahead of the storm, much of the Eastern seaboard was fanned by September-like mildness during the night. Low temperatures in the 60s were common from Washington to Boston.

In contrast, Arctic cold numbed the northern Rockies. Laramie, Wyo., registered an ear-stinging 3 below zero before dawn.

And heavy-snow warnings were issued for mountain areas of New Mexico.

Check Forger Sentenced 1-20 Years

A Cincinnati man charged with passing forged checks in Circleville was tried and sentenced to prison by Common Pleas Court Judge William Ammer Friday.

Eddie Isome had been indicted Sept. 9, by the September term of the Pickaway County Grand Jury for passing a forged check of $129.22 at Bingham Drug Store on June 26.

Isome entered a plea of guilty to the charge Friday morning and was sentenced by Judge Ammer to 1-20 years at the Ohio State Reformatory at Mansfield.

The other men, charged in a related case, are awaiting trial by jury later this year.

Man Bound To Jury For Bad Check

Roy Fausnaugh, Circleville, was bound to the next term of the Pickaway County Grand Jury Wednesday when he pleaded guilty to writing a check when he had no account.

The charge against Fausnaugh was filed in Circleville Municipal Court by Wanda Stumbo. Fausnaugh passed the bad check in the amount of $10 at the South End Market.

Judge Sterling Lamb set bond at $500.

Wrenches Stolen

Merle Campbell, assistant manager of the Landmark Store, reported to Circleville Police at 4 p.m. Wednesday that a wrench set valued at $19.95 had been stolen from the store.

Meanwhile, the commuting challenge for 90,000 daily riders on the Long Island Rail Road appeared ended. Line officials said they expected "full service" but warned of possible delays due to new timetables.

Wildcat strikes by trainmen and engineers snarled service for three days beginning Monday this week. Then holiday snafus caused the cancellation of 20 of 270 runs and delays on 70 more Thursday.

A spokesman attributed the new trouble to problems in getting the men and machinery matched up. "We just didn't get all the guys in the same place with all the equipment," he said.

The line now gets its first test of the new timetables—its first major schedule change in 20 years. The changes, which union members said would cost them overtime pay, were blamed for the walkouts.

Nonprofessional workers who struck four state mental hospitals, disrupting the lives of thousands of patients for more than a week, began returning to the wards Thursday.

Views on Television

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP)—A mood piece, spun delicately with words, is difficult enough to pull off successfully. And to translate it effectively into another medium, television, is quite an accomplishment indeed.

Yet, for the second time, a sensitive production and acting team has managed to fashion a sensitive, moving and altogether memorable occasion out of what must be identified as a semi-autobiographical vignette—drama is too powerful a word—by Truman Capote.

The first was 1966's "A Christmas Memory". On Thursday night it was "The Thanksgiving Memory," and it lived up, surprisingly, to expectations built by the first show.

Geraldine Page once again portrayed Miss Sook, the child-like, romantic and aging spinster with extraordinary human insight, the "best friend" and comforter of Buddy, a small lonely boy living with cousins during a crisis in his own family. Michael Kearney, once again in the role, was heart-rendingly effective as the boy.

The story line was simple: Buddy was harassed by an older, bigger bully and had no one to turn to except the loving and sympathetic Sookie, herself bullied by two hard-eyed sisters and a stern, unsympathetic brother.

Buddy, too small to stand up to the bully and too young to talk up to his elders, suffered. Miss Sook dreamed of far-away places and pinned all her dreams on selling a cameo pin that she fondly believed was worth enough money to carry her and Buddy from the farm home to the excitements of New Orleans.

The suspense came from Miss Sook's determination to convert the bully by inviting him to their Thanksgiving dinner. The plan worked until Buddy saw

Youth Hit By Auto Is Hospitalized

Five year old Duane Wilkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl L. Wilkins, 143 Fairview Ave., was admitted to Children's Hospital, Columbus, for treatment of injuries sustained when struck by a car 3:37 p.m. Wednesday. The youth ran from between parked cars in front of his home into the side of a car driven by David McCain, 17, 113 Highland Ave.

He sustained a fractured leg and other injuries. McCain told Circleville police he did not see the youth, but stopped as soon as he heard the impact.

Crash Kills 5 Persons Near Elyria

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP) — Three young Michigan children were reported in critical condition today following a two-car collision Thursday which claimed the lives of their parents, six-year-old sister and two Ohio brothers.

Killed in the crash at the intersection of Ohio's 18 and 301 about 10 miles south of Elyria were:

Talmadge E. Sutton, 36, of Ypsilanti, Mich., his wife Carol, 24, daughter Ruby, 6, William H. King, 17, and John Robert King, 12, both of Creston, Ohio.

Beulah King, 42, mother of the two dead Ohio youths, was reported in serious condition with head and internal injuries at Southern Lorain County Hospital in Wellington.

Three Sutton children, Eugene, 5, Bertha, 18 months and John, six weeks, were all reported in critical condition. Bertha and Eugene were hospitalized in Wellington. John was taken to Elyria Memorial Hospital.

Police said the Sutton family were enroute from Michigan to Akron, Ohio, to spend Thanksgiving with relatives.

The two cars were driven by Sutton and William King, police added.

Long Voyage

SARATOGA, Wyo. (AP)—The first grade class of Mrs. Len Denson at Saratoga Elementary School signed a note last year, put it in a bottle and dropped it into the North Platte River.

The note said: "Whoever finds this bottle please send this card back and tell us when and where you found it."

Mrs. Denson recently received a reply mailed from Lexington, Va., by Emil Smith. It said "found on bank of the Mississippi river near Memphis, Tenn., July 29, 1968."

The bottle apparently had floated over five major dams on the North Platte, Missouri and Mississippi rivers before being washed ashore near Memphis, nearly 2,000 miles away.

Africans Do Missionary Work In America

NEW YORK (AP) — Dark-skinned Africans and Asians, the object of the Western world's predominantly white missionary enterprise for more than 150 years, are returning the favor today and offering some Christian guidance of their own in racially-troubled America.

It's a strange turnabout, precipitated by black-white tensions and disorders in this country, and bringing an unusual case of reversal in the normal church flow of religious-ethical aid and advice.

Instead of getting it in their homelands, a group of overseas Christians are giving it here.

They're doing so in response to a request from the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. for help in "cooling it" in the nation's crisis areas of racial unrest.

Even so, the denomination says, the switch in some instances momentarily upset American churchmen, who have been used to dispatching the Gospel to Asia, Africa and Latin America, but not to getting it from there.

"By what right have you come?" a Philadelphian asked Edgar Moros, a Venezuelan Christian assigned there. "What are your credentials?"

A denominational report said various clergymen and laymen, from New York to California, voiced resentment at the idea that overseas mission churches which the Americans supported would "try to save us."

But except for a few scattered instances, the report said, the overseas churchmen and missionaries brought here have worked effectively in many black slums where tensions had forced out American social workers.

Presbyterian leaders were described as confident that "an authentic new style of joint action in mission has been discovered."

This is not the first time for missionaries from the Asian-African "younger churches" to undertake missions to the "older churches" of the West, but it is regarded as the first broad-scale, concerted operation of its kind.

Disturbance Hits

Football Game

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Police reported incidents of rowdism between youthful gangs Thursday following the annual Thanksgiving Day high school football championship at Cleveland Stadium.

About 400 police were on duty in downtown Cleveland as the game ended in a 14-14 tie between John F. Kennedy and St. Ignatius.

Police said there were a number of minor assaults and windows of some stores along Euclid Avenue were smashed.

Councilman Gerald T. McFaul said he may ask for the game to be banned altogether.

National and overseas mission agencies of the 3.3-million-member denomination launched the program six months ago to help ease problems in "crucial urban areas of the United States."

Brought here for the undertaking were 32 overseas Christian workers, including some veteran American missionaries, with a fresh perspective on the issues from long involvement with dark-skinned peoples, and also national churchmen.

The project has been carried on up to now without publicity, the report noted, so as to avoid jeopardizing it with controversy at the outset, in six presbyteries (city areas) and three synods (state regions).

They are: Chicago, New York City, Tulsa, Okla., Washington, D.C., Buffalo, N.Y., and West Florida, and the synods of Arizona, Michigan and Ohio, including work in Detroit, Cleveland and Cincinnati.

Disturbance Hits Football Game

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Police reported incidents of rowdism between youthful gangs Thursday following the annual Thanksgiving Day high school football championship at Cleveland Stadium.

About 400 police were on duty in downtown Cleveland as the game ended in a 14-14 tie between John F. Kennedy and St. Ignatius.

Police said there were a number of minor assaults and windows of some stores along Euclid Avenue were smashed.

Councilman Gerald T. McPaul said he may ask for the game to be banned altogether.

National and overseas mission agencies of the 3.3-million-member denomination launched the program six months ago to help ease problems in "crucial urban areas of the United States."

Brought here for the undertaking were 32 overseas Christian workers, including some veteran American missionaries, with a fresh perspective on the issues from long involvement with dark-skinned peoples, and also national churchmen.

The project has been carried on up to now without publicity, the report noted, so as to avoid jeopardizing it with controversy at the outset, in six presbyteries (city areas) and three synods (state regions).

They are: Chicago, New York City, Tulsa, Okla., Washington, D.C., Buffalo, N.Y., and West Florida, and the synods of Arizona, Michigan and Ohio, including work in Detroit, Cleveland and Cincinnati.

In recent years, foreign sales of soybeans brought more dollars into the United States than any other farm product. As a result, the nation's first billion-dollar crop is being harvested this fall.

Unfortunately, foreign competition in vegetable oils has driven down the market price of soybeans and their derivatives. A familiar cycle threatens to be repeated.

Suddenly the government's loan, or support, price has become higher than the average market price. Accordingly, much of this year's soybean crop is going into storage. Future planters will have the choice of growing soybeans for the market place or the warehouse.

American consumers will not have a choice. They'll continue to pay the market price, as well as the taxes to support the surplus.

More On Nixon Cabinet

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

It is interesting to overhear the conversations of those who presume to advise Richard Nixon on possible Cabinet appointments. The suggestion that U.S. Senator Henry M. — or "Scoop" — Jackson, a Democrat from the State of Washington, be named Secretary of Defense continues to gain delighted adherents. There are others, however, who would like to switch the signals to advocate Jackson for Secretary of State.

The argument for replacing Dean Rusk with "Scoop" Jackson rests on the latter's reputation in the Senate, where he has both the liking and the respect of Democrats and Republicans. It has frequently been said that Nixon is going to run his own foreign policy. But no President can do what he pleases beyond the water's edge; the Senate, as Lyndon Johnson discovered when he ran head-on into Bill Fulbright, Gene McCarthy, and Bobby Kennedy, often has the final say, or at least the final monkey wrench to toss into the machinery. To be effective in foreign policy matters, the White House must be able to get along with the Senate. "Scoop" Jackson, as a Senator's Senator, might be just the man to make things easier for Nixon on Capitol Hill without sacrificing common sense in fighting for U.S. interests abroad.

The conversational build-up of Jackson for Secretary of State is usually coupled with a lament that Robert Murphy, the 74-year-old career diplomat who advised General Mark Clark in Japan during the period of the Korean armistice negotiations, is too old for an active Cabinet job. But one of our most knowledgeable Elder Statesmen in Far Eastern matters who knows Murphy intimately says the man is surely able to function at high speed. Murphy, who is currently acting as Nixon's liaison with President Lyndon Johnson on Vietnamese "peace" matters, knew Churchill and Adenauer and has had his experiences with de Gaulle, and all of these great names continued to have great careers after passing Murphy's present age. The suggestion is that Murphy might be willing to serve as Nixon's Secretary of State for a year or so, just to get the line set.

This, according to my Elder Statesman informant, would have the virtue of freeing "Scoop" Jackson to bring his real competence to bear where it would be most effective, in the Department of Defense. Jackson has the reputation of knowing more about the Soviet capabilities for manufacturing and deploying orbital, sub-orbital and anti-missile missiles than anyone else in the Senate.

If he were to become Secretary of State instead of Secretary of Defense, Jackson, a good man on NATO, would certainly provide sound policy thinking insofar as our relations with western Europe are concerned. But many Americans know Europe and few of them know the Far East. Murphy, with his background of service in Japan, where he was our first post-war Ambassador before becoming a negotiator in the effort to produce a Korean settlement, has the advantage of knowing the problems of the Far East as well as those of Europe and the Mediterranean cockpit.

No matter who is Number One in the State Department, the problem of picking a good man for Assistant Secretary for the Far East during the period of the Vietnam wind-up is doubly important. It is suggested that Nixon might turn to Frederick Nolting, our former Ambassador to South Vietnam. Nolting had difficulties with the Kennedy Administration over the so-called neutralization of Laos and the decision to get rid of the Saigon government of Ngo Dinh Diem. As it turned out, he was right in assuming that a "neutral" Laos would provide a military corridor for Ho Chi Minh's troops. He was also correct in thinking that a chaotic period would follow the overthrow of Diem. Nolting is currently a Morgan Guaranty Trust Company man in Paris, where his fluency in French makes him invaluable. But government is his natural field. Other candidates for the Far Eastern division of State are Jefferey Parsons, with important Japanese experience, and Marshall Green, now our Ambassador in Indonesia.

Again, it must be said that what is heard around Nixon headquarters represents pure tentativeness. The boss, at this writing, has not yet spoken, no matter who says otherwise.

Circleville's championship football team was feted for the fifth time in three days when local businessmen sponsored a dinner and dance at the Youth Canteen. Three more civic sponsored affairs were upcoming plus the Booster Club banquet.

Circleville was granted a .05 mill tax increase by Pickaway County Budget Commission to cover operating expenses in 1949.

Circleville board of education was urged to start an automobile driver class in the high school as part of the regular curricula by Kiwanis spokesman John Heiskell, accompanied by Ned Harden representing GM auto dealers who would provide the dual-control auto. No action was taken by the board.

Pickaway and Circleville basketball teams were tied for first place in Alumni League play. Jack Hix of Monroe alumni held individual scoring honors having netted 41 points in two meets.

Residents within the Circleville corporation were informed that they would recognize a tax cut in real estate valuation in 1949.

Mrs. Frank Graves of Kingston, Route 1, won second place in the tailored division of National Grange's annual blouse-making contest.

Roy J. Huffer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Huffer of N. Court St., presented a solo arrangement when he appeared with the Geneva chorus in Columbus. Huffer was studying vocal music at Capital University.

Mrs. Emma Darst, widow of Walter C. Darst, first editor and publisher of The Circleville Daily Herald, died at the age of 82. Her husband had preceded her in death in 1931.

The reproduction of one of the religious paintings of Heinrich Hoffman was unveiled at ceremonies in Five Points Methodist Church. Charles F. Johnson, well known, talented artist of Williamsport had been commissioned to do the painting.

December 6 was the date tentatively set for the start of production in the city's new $2.5 million General Electric Slimline Lamp plant, according to Ed Grigg, manager.

Ten turkeys were given away free at the Cliftona Theater through the cooperation of some local businesses. On the screen was "Rose of Washington Square" with Tyrone Power, Alice Faye and Al Jolson.

Employees of the Circleville Ralston Purina plant completed two years of work without a lost time accident. They were honored at a special award and recognition ceremony.

Speaking Of Your Health

Are there any safe drugs for the relief of morning sickness during early pregnancy? . . .

There is a greater and greater tendency by physicians to avoid the excess use of drugs during pregnancy. When they are necessary, of course, the doctor suggests them with the complete assurance they are safe. Medical conditions arise during pregnancy which must be treated just as actively as if the patient were not pregnant. Drugs, therefore, become a necessary form of treatment.

There is a danger in taking over-the-counter drugs, purchased without a prescription and without the specific approval of the doctor. No one should expose herself to unnecessary danger during the relatively short period of morning nausea.

A second major rule of safety for the mother and the child is that the pregnancy be under the supervision of the doctor from the very moment that it is established. This considerably reduces the possibility of complications.

Can repeated red angry pimples on the nose be caused by diet?

Almost every conceivable condition in the body has at one time or another been attributed to diet. It is a comfortable refuge, in this case, for the less glamorous possibility that nose wiping might be responsible.

Diet, in a vague way, may make people more susceptible to infections. An inadequate diet may devitalize the body and reduce its resistance to the invasion of bacteria.

When the nose is wiped too vigorously the inside surface of the nose may be irritated and open areas into which infection is introduced. It is a misconception that wiping the nose with a handkerchief or tissue is not irritating. It can be. Plucking out hairs is another excellent way of inviting infection. Some tissues have in them a harsh, irritating, bleaching agent and when used in large quantities can cause marked redness of the lips and nose and abrade the skin, thus open avenues of infection.

If a pimple does show its unpleasant discoloration on the nose, don't pick it. The application of comfortably warm dressings to the outside of the nose along with wet dressings of salt water to the inside of the nose will usually bring the pimple to a head and open. A solution made of half a teaspoonful of salt in a glass of boiled water that has returned to tepid temperature is excellent for this purpose. The use of an antibiotic is usually not necessary, but its use, of course, depends on the severity of the infection and the judgment of the physician.

Injuries to the nose should be examined carefully. X-rays sometimes reveal an unsuspected fracture that might heal with a deformity.

NEW YORK (AP) — There is no renewal like memory.

No matter how jaded in spirit we may be with the passing moment, by the magic power of recollection we can refresh ourselves in an instant by a mental journey to a time when our world was younger and perhaps fairer of view.

Our lives are but living museums composed of our memories—room after room after room.

Your own museum is pretty well-stocked if you can look back and remember when—

The first thing you did after alighting from a railroad trip was brush the cinders out of your clothing and wash the soot off your face.

You didn't really need an alarm clock to wake up by, because at least one of your neighbors kept chickens and a crowing rooster in his backyard.

Before the suburbs became popular, only poor people lived on the outskirts of town. If your family had money, you lived where the action was—in town.

Most gaffers over 60 years of age carried a bucket in their pockets to ward off the pangs of "the rheumatiz."

If a back tooth ached, a country dentist didn't bother to treat it. He yanked it out then and there.

Politicians spent most of their campaigns trying to please or placate farmers, because it was the farm vote that decided elections.

You could tell when a lad was beginning to practice shaving with his dad's straight-edge razor—there was usually a bandage on the tip of his nose or the tip of one ear.

In a large family, no matter how hungry the youngsters were, no hand dared reach for the meat platter until Father was seated at the table and had finished saying grace. Then all grabbed at once.

You could travel for days across America by car and never see an auto accident—or the remains of one.

Civilization turned a corner in the small town you lived in on that first epochal Saturday afternoon when there were more automobiles than horses and buggies parked around the courthouse square.

Lovers were sure there would never be a more heart-stirring Henry Busse's rendition of "When Day is Done"—and sure enough, there hasn't been.

An enlightened minister was one who would permit his children to play card games for fun although, naturally, he wouldn't stoop to such frivolity himself.

Any schoolteacher seen smoking a cigarette in public could expect to be called before an outraged school board the very next evening to explain her outlandish behavior.

According To Boyle

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Despite its obvious prosperity, as evidenced by the big bonus checks now being readied for pre-Christmas delivery to workers, the brokerage business today is one beset by many trials and contradictions.

The outer calm, the neat and precise manners, the aura of confidence, hide failures in foresight, in technological know-how, in self-regulation and even in self-identity.

For years, apparently, these defects were hidden from view, even from the sight of those deeply involved. But in recent months no business has had its weaknesses and failures so nakedly revealed.

To the credit of the stock market community, sweat and effort is now being exerted, but it will be a long time before the sediment of procrastination is shoveled away. It was piled high.

The brokerage business for years sought high volume by advertising and promoting the value of participating in American enterprise, but when the volume came many firms hadn't prepared for it. Even the stock exchange ticker proved inadequate.

The stock and bond industry is essentially service oriented, but some of the better known firms, having been caught unprepared for high volume, cannot now provide the high quality services that customers expect.

The business preaches the necessity of self-regulation, but it has permitted obvious failures in its methods to become accepted, only to be challenged later by the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Some members, for example, have argued for a commission structure with a minimum at the bottom but no maximum commission at the top, although in most businesses volume means discounts. Now it has been ordered from without.

The principal medium for handling business is paper, whether it be dollar bills or stock or bond certificates, but the industry has failed to develop a technology to handle the mountains of paper brought by good times.

Today it has the opportunity for more prosperity than ever before, but some of the largest firms have been forced to curtail business, even to close their doors and lay off workers, because they can't handle prosperity.

The industry has spent millions to encourage the small investors into the market but now some of the best known firms refuse his business, suggesting he buy mutual fund instead, even though the biggest brokerage house of all won't handle any mutual fund business.

A Northwestern University scientist has been awarded a medal for his research about atoms. Sometimes it pays to think small.

On the other hand—thinking too small may also get you into trouble. Like that Huntington, W. Va., teenager who was charged with filing down 2,500 pennies to the size of dimes, so they would fit into coin changers.

According to a well known animal expert, training a lion is exactly like training a child. With one exception—the spanking routine is out, right from the start!

A Midwestern town reports theft of an empty parking meter. Wonder if the thief thought it had any resale value?

The Business World

By JOHN CUNNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — There is no renewal like memory.

No matter how jaded in spirit we may be with the passing moment, by the magic power of recollection we can refresh ourselves in an instant by a mental journey to a time when our world was younger and perhaps fairer of view.

Our lives are but living museums composed of our memories—room after room after room.

Your own museum is pretty well-stocked if you can look back and remember when—

The first thing you did after alighting from a railroad trip was brush the cinders out of your clothing and wash the soot off your face.

You didn't really need an alarm clock to wake up by, because at least one of your neighbors kept chickens and a crowing rooster in his backyard.

Before the suburbs became popular, only poor people lived on the outskirts of town. If your family had money, you lived where the action was—in town. Most gaffers over 60 years of age carried a buckeye in their pockets to ward off the pangs of "the rheumatiz."

If a back tooth ached, a country dentist didn't bother to treat it. He yanked it out then and there.

Politicians spent most of their campaigns trying to please or placate farmers, because it was the farm vote that decided elections.

You could tell when a lad was beginning to practice shaving with his dad's straight-edge razor—there was usually a bandage on the tip of his nose or the tip of one ear.

In a large family, no matter how hungry the youngsters were, no hand dared reach for the meat platter until Father was seated at the table and had finished saying grace. Then all grabbed at once.

You could travel for days across America by car and never see an auto accident—or the remains of one.

Civilization turned a corner in the small town you lived in on that first epochal Saturday afternoon when there were more automobiles than horses and buggies parked around the courthouse square.

Lovers were sure there would never be a more heart-stirring Henry Busse's rendition of "When Day is Done"—and sure enough, there hasn't been.

An enlightened minister was one who would permit his children to play card games for fun although, naturally, he wouldn't stoop to such frivolity himself.

Any schoolteacher seen smoking a cigarette in public could expect to be called before an outraged school board the very next evening to explain her outlandish behavior.

self-identity. For years, apparently, these defects were hidden from view, even from the sight of those deeply involved. But in recent months no business has had its weaknesses and failures so nakedly revealed.

To the credit of the stock market community, sweat and effort is now being exerted, but it will be a long time before the sediment of procrastination is shoveled away. It was piled high.

The brokerage business for years sought high volume by advertising and promoting the value of participating in American enterprise, but when the volume came many firms hadn't prepared for it. Even the stock exchange ticker proved inadequate.

The stock and bond industry is essentially service oriented, but some of the better known firms, having been caught unprepared for high volume, cannot now provide the high quality services that customers expect.

The business preaches the necessity of self-regulation, but it has permitted obvious failures in its methods to become accepted, only to be challenged later by the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Some members, for example, have argued for a commission structure with a minimum at the bottom but no maximum commission at the top, although in most businesses volume means discounts. Now it has been ordered from without.

The principal medium for handling business is paper, whether it be dollar bills or stock or bond certificates, but the industry has failed to develop a technology to handle the mountains of paper brought by good times.

Today it has the opportunity for more prosperity than ever before, but some of the largest firms have been forced to curtail business, even to close their doors and lay off workers, because they can't handle prosperity.

The industry has spent millions to encourage the small investors into the market but now some of the best known firms refuse his business, suggesting he buy mutual fund instead, even though the biggest brokerage house of all won't handle any mutual fund business.

Dear Editor:

I was talking to Joe Doe (our average citizen) yesterday. He said his rich aunt, Lotta Doe, is in favor of the proposed city income tax.

Lotta has a lot of rental properties which are on the tax duplicate for $200,000. By judicious use of depreciation and repairs she shows a net income of $20,000 on these properties.

Lotta has a lot of rental city income tax. She will save $200 when the one-mill levy is dropped. Thus, the city income tax costs her nothing.

Any of you who are in Lotta's fortunate circumstances would do well to boost the city income tax. As Lotta says "It will stop any further property tax increases and that is what costs me with my half million dollars worth of real estate."

If you are not in Lotta's shoes (or should we say silver slippers) you will be out of pocket from $50 to $100 or more per year.

WSCS Of St. Paul Church Holds Thanksgiving Dinner

WSCS members of St. Paul United Methodist Church, their families and guests enjoyed a Thanksgiving carry-in dinner Tuesday evening at the church in Washington Twp.

The dining room was decorated in the traditional Thanksgiving theme. Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Marion Beavers, Mrs. Cliff Hedges and Mrs. Clode Hill.

After the dinner Mrs. Ralph Delong led a short devotional service on the theme, "Gratitude and Our Responsibility as Christians." She arranged a cornucopia and candle worship center, and opened with the group singing "We Gather Together" and reading of a prayer by Mr. Peter Marshall. The leader then pointed out some of the things for which we should be thankful, a return home safely, children, the ballot, work and the strength to do it, the knowledge that someone cares, life in an affluent society, electricity, the revelation of God through Jesus, the part of the Christian Church. "It is through the goodness of God that we have all these things and many others. Each one each day can find someone to help and he can be thankful to God for the opportunity." A special Thank offering was received and the devotional service closed with the group singing "For the Beauty of the Earth."

Miss Weta Mae Leist, president, then conducted a brief business session. A letter from the Korean orphan supported by the society was read and money was voted for the Christian Children's Fund, KYN, and the Steve Knece fund.

The next meeting will be on Sunday afternoon, December 15 at the church. At this Christmas meeting the 1968 silent sisters will be revealed and names for 1969 drawn. A silent sister tries all year long to do thoughtful things for the one whose name she has drawn. She usually remembers special days with cards, gifts and surprises.

Rare Wine Sold During Auction; $204 Per Bottle

LONDON (AP) — Seven half bottles of Tokay Essence, a rare wine supposed to revive the dying, sold at auction Thursday for $204 each. All went to an anonymous buyer.

One of the sellers was Dennis Wheatley, writer of thrillers, who acquired his two bottles, vintage 1868 and 1906, from the cellars of the King of Saxony before World War I.

The wine is sweet and greenish in color. It was made in a small region of Hungary from grapes dried in the sun.

Michael Broadbent, wine expert at Christies Auctioneers, said: "It's said that the life of one of the popes was prolonged for six weeks by small doses sent by the Emperor Franz Joseph. I don't know if it is still being made."

Rare Wine Sold During Auction; $204 Per Bottle

LONDON (AP) — Seven half bottles of Tokay Essence, a rare wine supposed to revive the dying, sold at auction Thursday for $204 each. All went to an anonymous buyer.

One of the sellers was Dennis Wheatley, writer of thrillers, who acquired his two bottles, vintage 1888 and 1906, from the cellars of the King of Saxony before World War I.

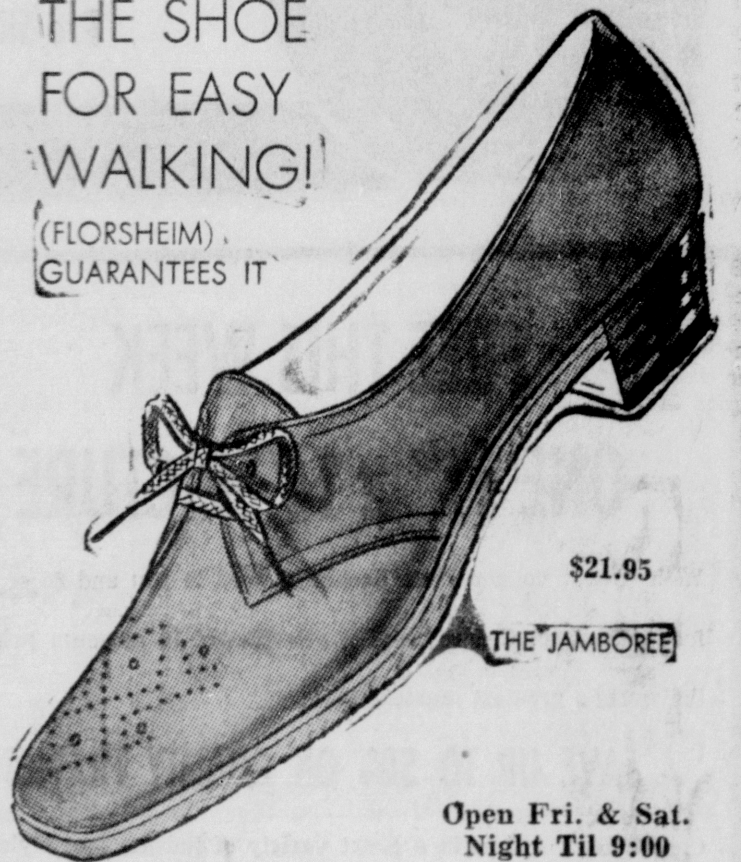

The wine is sweet and greenish in color. It was made in a small region of Hungary from grapes dried in the sun.

Michael Broadbent, wine expert at Christies Auctioneers, said: "It's said that the life of one of the popes was prolonged for six weeks by small doses sent by the Emperor Franz Joseph. I don't know if it is still being made."

How the Weather Looks

OHIO WEATHER SUMMARY

Rain remains general over the state Friday morning in the wake of the intense storm which moved through the Lower Great Lakes. Cool air was quick to move into the state once the storm passed east and temperatures now range from the upper 30s over northwest counties to the upper 40s in the south-east.

Temperatures rose rapidly in to the upper 50s and lower 60s on Thanksgiving as the storm moved out of the Middle Mississippi Valley to central Illinois Thursday midday and to southern Lake Huron at sundown. The storm turned east to northeast during the night and has now broken into three separate centers. One center is near the Boy of Fundy a second in northern New Hampshire and the third in the vicinity of Toronto. This is only a temporary condition as they will continue east today consolidating again off the Maine Coast.

Winds will remain strong through Friday continuing to bring colder air in from the north. As the cold air becomes more general showers will become mixed with snow flurries finally changing entirely to snow flurries over northern sections. The highest temperatures Friday will vary little from that being reported at the present time.

As the winds diminish tonight snow flurries will become confined to counties near Lake Erie and Saturday will find them only extreme northeast sections.

FORECASTS

OHIO—Diminishing winds tonight with partial clearing south west and scattered snow flurries extreme northeast. Colder tonight. Lowest in the 20s. Variable cloudiness and a few snow flurries extreme northeast Saturday while generally fair elsewhere but continued cool.

NORTHWEST OHIO — Partly cloudy and colder tonight with diminishing winds. Lows in the middle to lower 20s. Fair and continued cold Saturday.

CENTRAL, SOUTHEAST and EAST CENTRAL OHIO—Partial clearing and colder tonight with a few snow flurries through the evening. Lows tonight middle to upper 20s. Fair and continued cool on Saturday.

Ecumenical Plan Bared

LONDON (AP) — The Tablet, the leading review of Britain's Roman Catholic intellectuals published today a document on Anglican-Roman Catholic relations in defiance of the Vatican.

The Archbishop of Canterbury, Dr. Michael Ramsey, had wanted the document published, but the Roman Curia insisted it should not be.

It contains far-reaching recommendations for closer links between the two churches.

The report was submitted to Pope Paul and the Archbishop of Canterbury. It advocates revolutionary moves like the sharing of facilities for theological education and the exchange of preachers during celebration of the Eucharist.

The late Cardinal Bea had sent a letter to the Pope and the archbishop, expressing fears that the bishops of both churches might get the impression the report already was approved for implementation.

Santa and the Hippies

By LUCRECE BEALE

CHAPTER ONE

HERE it is Christmas again — well, almost Christmas — and the question is: "Have you been good?"

Have you been nice to your Mama and helped set the table? Said "Yes, sir!" to your Daddy when he asked you to shovel the snow from the walk?

Have you hung your coat in the closet and come to meals on time? Studied your lessons and practiced the piano without being told? Put your toys where they belong and used a handkerchief when you should?

If you haven't been doing any of these things you better get busy because the first thing Santa wants to know when he's making out his list is "Has he been good?"

If you have been good, Santa's mighty pleased and you can bet your stocking will be overflowing on Christmas morning.

But the strange thing is — if you haven't been perfectly awful, Santa will fill your stocking just the same.

But he'll be sad about it and he really won't like it at all.

There once was a boy named Henry Wetherspoon who was a terror of a kid. He called himself Ding Dong and he didn't care at all about being nice to his Mama or polite to his teachers even if Christmas was coming.

Ding Dong never took baths. He never changed his socks or underwear. He wouldn't comb his hair or brush his teeth and he sneaked out of bed in the middle of the night to watch the late late late show on TV.

Ding Dong Henry Wetherspoon was a terror of a kid.

He teased his sisters and played jokes on his brothers and hid his Father's shaving cream to make him late of the 8:15. He raided the refrigerator all day long and turned up his nose at the dinner his Mother worked so hard to prepare. He passed notes in school and talked out loud and went to sleep when arithmetic class came around.

Oh, he was a problem and neither his folks nor his teachers knew what in the world to do with Ding Dong Henry Wetherspoon.

But Santa Claus knew. He was going over his list of boys and girls and making up his mind what to bring them for Christmas. When he got to Ding Dong's name he said, "What about this one? What about Henry Wetherspoon?"

Santa has a helper — an elf named Edgar — who runs errands for him all over the world. In the course of his travels Edgar learned a lot about what children were up to when they thought no one was looking. So when Santa asked about Henry Wetherspoon, Edgar threw up his hands and wailed:

"That boy is impossible!"

Santa took off his spectacles and leaned back from his desk. "Tch, tch," he said reprovingly. "There's some good in every boy."

"Not his one!" snorted Edgar. He told Santa all he knew about Henry Wetherspoon. How bad he was and how unhappy he made all the folks who loved him and worried about him all the time.

Queen Elizabeth Leaves British Waters For Good

SOUTHAMPTON, England (AP) — The Queen Elizabeth sounded her mighty siren for the last time in British waters today and sailed off to Florida to the strains of "God Save The Queen."

About 500 Britons gathered at the dock to say farewell as the old Cunard liner ended her 28-year career in the Atlantic.

Other ships in the harbor sounded their sirens and dock-side cranes dipped in a last salute to the 83,000-ton vessel, due to become a floating entertainment and conventio center at Port Everglades.

When her sister ship, the Queen Mary, left in October 1967 for her final berth at Long Beach, Calif., 10,000 people turned out, planes flew salutes and warships escorted her out of the English Channel.

But the Elizabeth sailed out like a ghost in a misty dawn, with no passengers and only a skeleton crew.

LCI Fire Heroes Doing Well

LEBANON, Ohio (AP) — Two years ago today, three prisoners broke the "convict code" and rescued a shop supervisor from certain death in an inferno at the Lebanon Correctional Institution.

The Nov. 29, 1966, fire caused about $2 million damage and destroyed the prisoner's workshops. None of about 330 men in the shops was hurt.

By the time the rubble was cleared and the shops rebuilt, the three men were out on parole — and not one of them has been in trouble since.

Edward Hilles, 32, Cincinnati; Linwood Bosley, 21, Columbus; and Thurman Armstrong, 24, Portsmouth; broke the "convict code" which says prisoners should not go out of their way to help the guards.

The three were awarded bronze medals and split a $1,500 prize from the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission for rescuing shop foreman Robert L. Reinert, who said Nov. 29, 1966, "is one day I won't forget."

"We caught a little static about it from the other inmates but I always could take care of myself and handle any trouble that came my way," Hilles explained.

But he added that the three did not think too much about he code at the time.

The fire erupted in the sign shop where the three men, along with other inmates, were working and Reinert was in the rear of the office. Reinert checked out the shop and two adjacent ones to make sure every one had vacated them and he ended up being trapped inside one. He said he tripped and the next thing he knew, Hilles, Bosley and Armstrong were dragging him out.

Flames eventually reached 60-gallon drums of paint and the shops turned into an inferno. About four hours later the blaze was extinguished.

Why save a guard?

As Hilles put it, "For being confined, he treated you decent." The sign shop was on a first-name basis between supervisors and men. It was one of the more pleasant places at LCI to work, Hilles indicated.

"I have been walking the chalk line since then," Hilles said. And so have Armstrong and Bosley.

Hilles is moving soon into the Talbert House in Cincinnati, a halfway house for ex-convicts. Although he was originally sentenced for auto theft and was in and out of LCI three times a parole violator, he intends to stay out now and become a printer and a silk screen craftsman.

Bosley, a first offender sentenced for unarmed robbery, was paroled Feb. 21 and his parole officer, Robert Delz of Columbus, calls him a "model parolee."

Armstrong has been on parole and has been working on a power plant project in Adams County.

French Senate OKs De Gaulle Austerity Plan

PARIS (AP) — The Senate today approved by 157 votes to 87 President Charles de Gaulle's austerity finance bill designed to stave off devaluation of the franc.

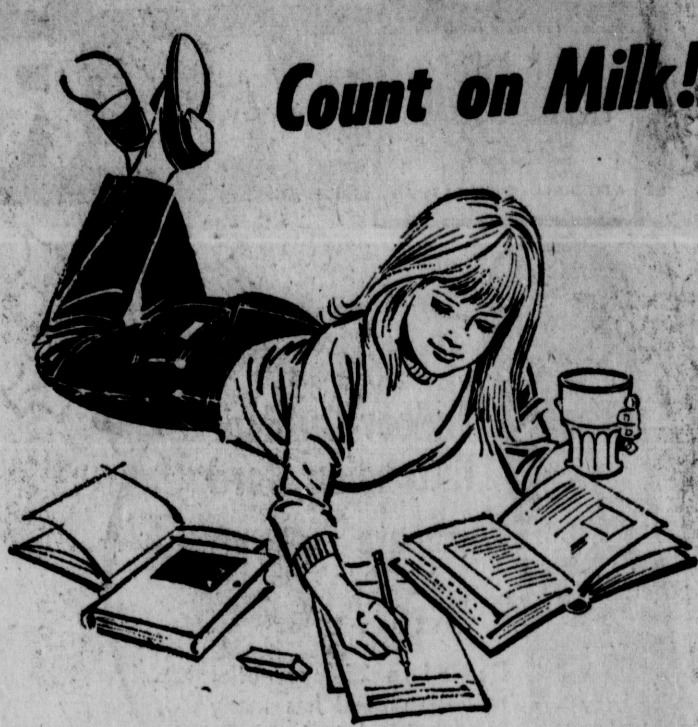

The bill was approved Thursday by the National Assembly.

Senators who voted against the bill included Communists, Socialists and several members of the Democratic Left.

The bill provides cuts in government spending, increased sales taxes, a reduction in the tax on exports and service rate increases. It has been estimated the measures will raise the cost of living in France 1.5 to 3 per cent.

Center leader Jacques Duhamel saw De Gaulle's defense of the franc as an effort to ease closer to President-elect Richard M. Nixon in a common monetary front against West Germany.

Military Training In Russia Now Starts At Age Of 10

By JOHN WEYLAND
Associated Press Writer
MOSCOW (AP) — Military training in the Soviet Union now starts at the age of 10.

Schoolboys throughout the country are organized into squads, detachments and battalions. Under adult commanders they practice drill, firing, the use of gas masks, other military skills and rendering medical aid.

The program introduced by the Kremlin leadership is being widened this year. Marshal Ivan Bagramyan, the World War II hero who has charge, this month ordered Pioneer units which had not taken part before to do so in 1968-69.

Soviet children from 10 to 15 belong to the Pioneer organization, which provides group activities and Communist indoctrination.

Older boys get more sophisticated military training the last two years before being drafted at 18. The Kremlin decreed this in 1967, also reducing the draft age one year.

The defense minister, Marshal Andrei Grechko, explained that the Soviet Union was "taking all steps necessary to strengthen its defenses."

The Soviet Union dropped the schoolboy soldier program after World War II.

The boys' training units, even for the youngest, have their political commissions alongside the military commanders, just as in the Soviet armed forces.

They also have their military formation classes.

From the start boys are told how they should think and instilled with patriotic feelings.

One of their tasks as "young armymen," the term used here, is to visit sights associated with the heroes of communism in the Revolution and World War II. They are also introduced to servicemen and veterans, who tell them about great deeds done for the motherland.

On military holidays, of which there are many, the boys' units are inspected as they drill and march. Each has its own bugler and drummer. The "young armymen" wear their red Pioneer scarfs in lieu of a uniform, and the officers have insignia of stars like those of the regular branches of the service.

Competitions are held on the regional, provincial and republic levels to pick out the detachments which excel in military-like exercises. A final in June produces the winner for the country. This unit receives a big medal proclaiming "victor" to attach to its banner.

Record Revenue

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Wagering at the Cranwood Park - at - Thistledown meeting this year provided a record $1,299,828 in state revenue, according to the Ohio Racing Commission. The previous high was $1,137,372 in 1967.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

Reformed Girl Asks How To Act

DEAR ABBY: I am not a mixed-up teen-ager, I am 24 years old, and I have been around the track a few times. When I was 18 I got involved with a married man and ended up with a baby and no husband. After that, whenever I dated a guy he took it for granted that I was easy, and I had a fight on my hands.

Men think that because a girl made one mistake she has nothing to lose. When I make it plain that I intend to behave myself, they think I am putting on an act. How is a girl who has learned her lesson and reformed supposed to act on a date?

GIRL WITH A PAST
DEAR GIRL: She is supposed to act like a lady, and after she has acted that way consistently, she will convince one and all that she is sincere. And if she loses the man, she can consider herself lucky because she'll know he wasn't looking for a respectable girl. And by the way, it's easier to live down a "past" if you change pastures.

DEAR ABBY: My husband is so hard to get up in the morning, I just don't know what to do. Once he's up, he's truly ambitious and hard-working, but it's getting him out of bed that's a chore. If I call him more than once, I'm "nagging" him, and I don't like to start the day off with a fight.

If I call him only once, he turns over and goes back to sleep. He's constantly late for work, which looks bad on his record. His mother said she had the same trouble with him before he was married.

We've been married for 3 years and I do love him. How can I make him realize that the early bird gets the worm?

BEAT IN BALTIMORE
DEAR BEAT: Maybe he's not crazy about worms, but if he likes butter on his bread, he'd better wake up (literally, that is). If he continues to be late for work, better get yourself a job. You'll need it.

DEAR ABBY: My daughter-in-law calls me "Grandmaw" and I don't like it one bit. Before her baby came she didn't call me anything. Just nothing at all. When she wanted my attention she would say, "Hey!"

When my grandson calls me "Grandmaw," I love it. I'm only 43, but it's one thing to have your own grandchild who is 3 years old call you "Grandmaw" and something else to be called that by a 25-year-old girl.

How can I let her know that I am not HER Grandmaw and I wish she would quit calling me that?

MOTHER-IN-LAW
DEAR MOTHER: How about just telling her?

CONFIDENTIAL TO R.E.F. IN YONKERS, N.Y.: A thousand apologies. You are right and I am wrong. I had it turned around: It is possible for two brown-eyed parents to produce a blue-eyed child, but the reverse is NOT true.

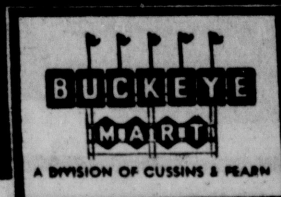

Recover Bodies From Sunk Ship

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — The bodies of seven men were found entombed Thursday in the work boat Triple Crown on the floor of the Pacific Ocean. Two others were sought.

The men still missing, unlike the others, were on the deck working when the vessel suddenly capsized and sank Monday.

Six deep sea divers, making five trips, recovered the seven bodies from inside the sunken hull of the 174-foot boat resting in 250 feet of Santa Barbara channel water.

Military Training In Russia Now Starts At Age Of 10

By JOHN WEYLAND
Associated Press Writer
MOSCOW (AP) — Military training in the Soviet Union now starts at the age of 10.
Schoolboys throughout the country are organized into squads, detachments and battalions. Under adult commanders they practice drill, firing, the use of gas masks, other military skills and rendering medical aid.
The program introduced by the Kremlin leadership is being widened this year. Marshal Ivan Bagramyan, the World War II hero who has charge, this month ordered Pioneer units which had not taken part before to do so in 1968-69.

Soviet children from 10 to 15 belong to the Pioneer organization, which provides group activities and Communist indoctrination.
Older boys get more sophisticated military training the last two years before being drafted at 18. The Kremlin decreed this in 1967, also reducing the draft age one year.

The defense minister, Marshal Andrei Grechko, explained that the Soviet Union was "taking all steps necessary to strengthen its defenses."
The Soviet Union dropped the schoolboy soldier program after World War II.
The boys' training units, even for the youngest, have their political commissions alongside the military commanders, just as in the Soviet armed forces.

They also have their military formation classes.
From the start boys are told how they should think and instilled with patriotic feelings.
One of their tasks as "young army-men," the term used here, is to visit sights associated with the heroes of communism in the Revolution and World War II. They are also introduced to servicemen and veterans, who tell them about great deeds done for the motherland.

On military holidays, of which there are many, the boys' units are inspected as they drill and march. Each has its own bugler and drummer. The "young army-men" wear their red Pioneer scarfs in lieu of a uniform, and the officers have insignia of stars like those of the regular branches of the service.
Competitions are held on the regional, provincial and republic levels to pick out the detachments which excel in military-like exercises. A final in June produces the winner for the country. This unit receives a big medal proclaiming "victor" to attach to its banner.

Record Revenue
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Wagering at the Cranwood Park - at Thistledown meeting this year provided a record $1,299,828 in state revenue, according to the Ohio Racing Commission. The previous high was $1,137,372 in 1967.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

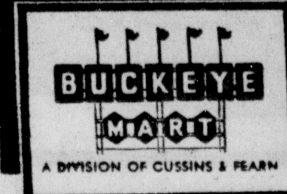

Reformed Girl Asks How To Act

DEAR ABBY: I am not a mixed-up teen-ager, I am 24 years old, and I have been around the track a few times. When I was 18 I got involved with a married man and ended up with a baby and no husband. After that, whenever I dated a guy he took it for granted that I was easy, and I had a fight on my hands.
Men think that because a girl made one mistake she has nothing to lose. When I make it plain that I intend to behave myself, they think I am putting on an act. How is a girl who has learned her lesson and reformed supposed to act on a date?
GIRL WITH A PAST
DEAR GIRL: She is supposed to act like a lady, and after she has acted that way consistently, she will convince one and all that she is sincere. And if she loses the man, she can consider herself lucky because she'll know he wasn't looking for a respectable girl. And by the way, it's easier to live down a "past" if you change pastures.
DEAR ABBY: My husband

Recover Bodies From Sunk Ship

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — The bodies of seven men were found entombed Thursday in the work boat Triple Crown on the floor of the Pacific Ocean. Two others were sought.
The men still missing, unlike the others, were on the deck working when the vessel suddenly capsized and sank Monday.
Six deep sea divers, making five trips, recovered the seven bodies from inside the sunken hull of the 174-foot boat resting in 250 feet of Santa Barbara channel water.
MOTHER-IN-LAW
DEAR MOTHER: How about just telling her?
CONFIDENTIAL TO R.E.F. IN YONKERS, N.Y.: A thousand apologies. You are right and I am wrong. I had it turned around! It is possible for two brown-eyed parents to produce a blue-eyed child, but the reverse is NOT true.

BILLINGS, Mont. (AP) — Mayor Willard Fraser recently sent the state flag to a Montana native serving with the 1st Marine Division in Vietnam.

In his letter to the Marine, Fraser advised the Montanan to be "arrogant only with knowledge and pride in Montana's contribution to history and America."

To explain his thought, Fraser wrote, "I always, when winning World War II, asserted to my fellow soldiers of the 8th Infantry Division, that one Montanan could whip two South Dakotans, four from Iowa, six from Illinois, eight from Massachusetts, 10 from South Carolina, and an even dozen from Texas."

Gas Erupts In Michigan

MARSHALL, Mich. (AP) — Natural gas cracked through the ground, sending thunderous rumblings through Marshall, hurling water 20 feet into the air and forcing about 15 families to flee from their homes in a half-mile-square area early Thanksgiving Day.

Red tags were hung on the homes to show that they were dangerous and the families would not be permitted to return. Authorities said they did not know when the tags would be removed.

The source of the highly volatile gas was unknown but geologists said it almost certainly came from underground pockets. Gas company workers said they could find no leaks in any lines.

Water pressure in wells rose sharply. Swampland bubbled. A 20-foot section of paved street was torn up as a geyser of gaseous water erupted from the middle of the rubble.

It was the second time in a month that mysterious underground gas pressure built up in Lower Michigan. Earlier, a seven-mile square area at Lee Township about 12 miles away in south central Michigan, was punctuated by the gas-and-water geysers.

Duke Makes Castle A Disneyland

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
AP Newsfeatures Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Americans panic over protocol, stammer over titles, curtsy clumsily, and ridicule royalty as an anachronism.

Yet they appear to yearn for a touch of it in their own democratic lives.

Or so it seems to England's 13th Duke of Bedford, who despite his purple lineage, is so democratic that any man can make the Lord's castle his home for the night—for a fee.

The towering aristocrat and his auburn-haired duchess discovered America's hunger for royal trappings a year ago when they made a three month lecture tour here.

"They are not quite sure how to react, really," her ladyship said, recalling her surprise when a bewildered American gentleman curtsied low in the receiving line.

At any rate the duke and his lively French-born wife recently completed a second go-around of the States, doing their bit to fill the royalty gap.

They were armed with slides of Woburn Abbey, the 3000-acre feudal estate which they transformed into a Disneyland of tours, kiddy rides, flea circuses and picnic grounds in an effort to keep up with the taxes. And they are filled with tales of friendly ghosts in residence as well as reminiscences of a noble life, all of which lend spice to their lecture tours. According to the duke, "Royalty is an escape into fantasy."

Slipping his hornrimmed glasses on over his graying sideburns, he warmed to the subject of how Americans had made their own sort of royalty out of movie stars, and the Kennedy family, and how indeed they had lost themselves from time to time in the imaginative world of Disney in order to enjoy vicariously a fabled existence.

"The beautiful clothes, the glamorous trappings may have been hired," said the duke mulling over the similarities between Hollywood royalty and his own kind. "But it all makes a lovely dream and dreams are very nice. Vicarious living doesn't hurt a thing. Royalty is all pretty harmless, really."

At least it is in England where the dukes, and the viscounts and the barons have been able to keep their heads, if not their bank books.

"We've survived," says the duke, more commonly known as John Russell, "because we've been able to change with the times. Nearly every one of us works today."

His work was laid out for him when his father, an eccentric peacenik vaguely related to Bertrand Russell, died leaving him all $14 million in death taxes, a palace needing $3 million in repairs and $400,000 a month for maintenance. Although other bluebloods had paved the way for his new career by requiring a shilling or so from guests examining their lordly estates, the duke and his third wife, Nicole, commercialized theirs with the showmanship of a P. T. Barnum.

"MISS NORTH AMERICA" for the "Miss Hemisphere" beauty contest is "Miss Arkansas," Marnette Sullivan, 21, who wears a big smile after being chosen at Mt. Pocono, Pa. She measures in at 35-22-35, is 5-feet-4½.

Gas Erupts In Michigan

MARSHALL, Mich. (AP) — Natural gas cracked through the ground, sending thunderous rumblings through Marshall, hurling water 20 feet into the air and forcing about 15 families to flee from their homes in a half-mile-square area early Thanksgiving Day.

Red tags were hung on the homes to show that they were dangerous and the families would not be permitted to return. Authorities said they did not know when the tags would be removed.

The source of the highly volatile gas was unknown but geologists said it almost certainly came from underground pockets. Gas company workers said they could find no leaks in any lines.

Water pressure in wells rose sharply. Swampland bubbled. A 20-foot section of paved street was torn up as a geyser of gaseous water erupted from the middle of the rubble.

It was the second time in a month that mysterious underground gas pressure built up in Lower Michigan. Earlier, a seven-mile square area at Lee Township about 12 miles away in south central Michigan, was punctuated by the gas-and-water geysers.

Duke Makes Castle A Disneyland

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
AP Newsfeatures Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Americans panic over protocol, stammer over titles, curtsy clumsily, and ridicule royalty as an anachronism.

Yet they appear to yearn for a touch of it in their own democratic lives.

Or so it seems to England's 13th Duke of Bedford, who despite his purple lineage, is so democratic that any man can make the Lord's castle his home for the night—for a fee.

The towering aristocrat and his auburn-haired duchess discovered America's hunger for royal trappings a year ago when they made a three month lecture tour here.

"They are not quite sure how to react, really," her ladyship said, recalling her surprise when a bewildered American gentleman curtsied low in the receiving line.

At any rate the duke and his lively French-born wife recently completed a second go-around of the States, doing their bit to fill the royalty gap.

They were armed with slides of Woburn Abby, the 3000-acre feudal estate which they transformed into a Disneyland of tours, kiddy rides, flea circuses and picnic grounds in an effort to keep up with the taxes. And they are filled with tales of friendly ghosts in residence as well as reminiscences of a noble life, all of which lend spice to their lecture tours. According to the duke, "Royalty is an escape into fantasy."

Slipping his hornrimmed glasses on over his graying sideburns, he warmed to the subject of how Americans had made their own sort of royalty out of movie stars, and the Kennedy family, and how indeed they had lost themselves from time to time in the imaginative world of Disney in order to enjoy vicariously a fabled existence.

"The beautiful clothes, the glamorous trappings may have been hired," said the duke mulling over the similarities between Hollywood royalty and his own kind. "But it all makes a lovely dream and dreams are very nice. Vicarious living doesn't hurt a thing. Royalty is all pretty harmless, really."

At least it is in England where the dukes, and the viscounts and the barons have been able to keep their heads, if not their bank books.

"We've survived," says the duke, more commonly known as John Russell, "because we've been able to change with the times. Nearly every one of us works today."

His work was laid out for him when his father, an eccentric peacenik vaguely related to Bertrand Russell, died leaving him all $14 million in death taxes, a palace needing $3 million in repairs and $400,000 a month for maintenance. Although other bluebloods had paved the way for his new career by requiring a shilling or so from guests examining their lordly estates, the duke and his third wife, Nicole, commercialized theirs with the showmanship of a P. T. Barnum.

"MISS NORTH AMERICA" for the "Miss Hemisphere" beauty contest is "Miss Arkansas," Marnette Sullivan, 21, who wears a big smile after being chosen at Mt. Pocono, Pa. She measures in at 35-22-35, is 5-feet-4½.

Tito Voices Alarm Over Soviet Moves

Sees Deterioration Of World Peace After Invasion

JAJCE, Yugoslavia (AP) — President Josip Broz Tito today voiced Yugoslavia's alarm over the "serious deterioration of the international situation" caused by the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia.

Tito spoke to an assembly of prominent Yugoslav leaders gathered to celebrate the creation of the first government of Yugoslavia 25 years ago.

Reviewing the history of the second session of "the Anti-Fascist Council of the People's Liberation of Yugoslavia," Tito stressed that the partisan revolution in Yugoslavia during World War II did not copy "outside models. He thus made it clear Yugoslavia does not consider her revolution a replica of the Soviet one.

"Our peoples have made enormous sacrifices and spilled streams of blood to become masters of their fate, to be able to decide independently on the forms of their socio-economic development," said Tito.

"Yugoslavia views with alarm the serious deterioration in the international situation that has taken place, particularly of late." This was a reference to the invasion of Czechoslovakia, which Yugoslavia sharply denounced.

"It's especially disturbing that even today in international relations, the principles of sovereignty and integrity of countries are not respected," said Tito. "If these principles which include the fundamental right of each people to be master in its own country are not respected, new crises and trouble will arise, and there will be no stabilization of international conditions."

Presidential Family Notes Thanksgiving

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — If President Johnson regretted that this was his last Thanksgiving as chief executive, it didn't show as he gathered family and friends at the ranch for the traditional feast and some unusual—even for Johnson—church-going.

The head of the Johnson clan was relaxed and smiling as he took the wheel himself to pilot a station wagon full of family, friends and staff to church Thursday. It was the second of three services he went to in 24-hour span.

Then the President posed for pictures on the sunny ranch lawn with Mrs. Johnson, daughters Luci Nugent and Lynda Robb, grandson Lyn and No. 1 presidential pet, Yuki the mongrel.

Lynda's month-old daughter Lucinda was excused from the session for a nap.

5 Men Killed In Australian Bushfire Fight

SYDNEY (AP) — Five men are dead, seven are missing and about 200 injured in midsummer bushfires that caused millions of dollars worth of damage within a 50-mile radius of Sydney in the past two days.

The fire danger diminished in Sydney's outer suburbs today as the wind abated and temperatures dropped 20 degrees from Thursday's high of 90.

Isolated fires still burned in the Blue Mountains 50 miles west of Sydney but they were reported under control.

A thousand firefighters including professionals, volunteers and soldiers stood by to prevent a recurrence of Thursday's disaster when flames destroyed 150 houses, shops, churches and other buildings.

Viet Protester May Be Deported

By HAL GULLIVER
Associated Press Writer

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Thomas Glenn Jolley, 24, says his opposition to the Vietnam war and the draft has cost him two jobs this year—and it could cause him to become a man without a country.

Jolley, a slender, dark-haired man with a moustache, said he has found another job since being fired for the second time last month, but added, "We don't really have plans for the future now, until this is over."

Jolley referred to a U.S. Immigration Service ruling that he must leave the United States within 90 days or be deported. Federal officials say Jolley crossed the border into Canada last year to avoid the draft and formally renounced his U.S. citizenship May 16, 1967.

The government contends Jolley re-entered this country illegally and should be deported.

Presumably the government would have to decide where. Jolley said, in an interview at his small Atlanta apartment, "I have no interest in returning to Canada" but that he would enjoy visiting that country again, voluntarily.

Government records show Jolley wrote a letter in May of 1967 saying, "Yesterday, May 16, I renounced my United States citizenship, thus terminating all obligations to the United States."

When Jolley was questioned about whether he regrets abandoning his citizenship, the youth exchanged glances with his 21-year-old wife, who accompanied him to Canada and replied: "I guess we did what we thought we had to do at the time we did it . . . that doesn't mean we would do it again."

Mrs. Jolley said, "The consequences have a lot to do with it" when she was asked whether she would favor taking the same steps again. "You might be tempted just to ride along," she said. "A lot of Tommy's friends have gotten good teaching jobs . . . other jobs . . . he's been fired from two jobs since this started."

Sobbing briefly, Mrs. Jolley said, "It's such a horrible thing . . . It's so bad living under that. All they have to do is announce where you work and you're fired. It's instantaneous."

Mrs. Jolley, who asked that her first name not be used, plays an unusual role in the case. Jolley's attorney argues that since his client's wife is unquestionably a U.S. citizen, her husband is entitled to remain in this country as the husband of a U.S. citizen.

But the government argues that Jolley had no right whatsoever to return from Canada after giving up his citizenship specifically to avoid the draft.

Jolley said he has not actually received the order giving him 90 days to leave the country. He intends to consult his attorney and may appeal to the Board of Immigration Appeals in Washington and possibly to the federal courts after the order arrives.

"Yugoslavia views with alarm the serious deterioration in the international situation that has taken place, particularly of late." This was a reference to the invasion of Czechoslovakia, which Yugoslavia sharply denounced.

"It's especially disturbing that even today in international relations, the principles of sovereignty and integrity of countries are not respected," said Tito. "If these principles which include the fundamental right of each people to be master in its own country are not respected, new crises and trouble will arise, and there will be no stabilization of international conditions."

Thanksgiving

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — If President Johnson regretted that this was his last Thanksgiving as chief executive, it didn't show as he gathered family and friends at the ranch for the traditional feast and some unusual — even for Johnson — church-going.

The head of the Johnson clan was relaxed and smiling as he took the wheel himself to pilot a station wagon full of family, friends and staff to church Thursday. It was the second of three services he went to in 24-hour span.

Then the President posed for pictures on the sunny ranch lawn with Mrs. Johnson, daughters Luci Nugent and Lynda Robb, grandson Lyn and No. 1 presidential pet, Yuki the mongrel.

Lynda's month-old daughter Lucinda was excused from the session for a nap.

5 Men Killed In Australian Bushfire Fight

SYDNEY (AP) — Five men are dead, seven are missing and about 200 injured in midsummer bushfires that caused millions of dollars worth of damage within a 50-mile radius of Sydney in the past two days.

The fire danger diminished in Sydney's outer suburbs today as the wind abated and temperatures dropped 20 degrees from Thursday's high of 90.

Isolated fires still burned in the Blue Mountains 50 miles west of Sydney but they were reported under control.

A thousand firefighters including professionals, volunteers and soldiers stood by to prevent a recurrence of Thursday's disaster when flames destroyed 150 houses, shops, churches and other buildings.

Viet Protester May Be Deported

By HAL GULLIVER
Associated Press Writer

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Thomas Glenn Jolley, 24, says his opposition to the Vietnam war and the draft has cost him two jobs this year — and it could cause him to become a man without a country.

Jolley, a slender, dark-haired man with a moustache, said he has found another job since being fired for the second time last month, but added, "We don't really have plans for the future now, until this is over."

Jolley referred to a U.S. Immigration Service ruling that he must leave the United States within 90 days or be deported. Federal officials say Jolley crossed the border into Canada last year to avoid the draft and formally renounced his U.S. citizenship May 15, 1967.

The government contends Jolley re-entered this country illegally and should be deported. Presumably the government would have to decide where.

Jolley said, in an interview at his small Atlanta apartment, "I have no interest in returning to Canada" but that he would enjoy visiting that country again, voluntarily.

Government records show Jolley wrote a letter in May of 1967 saying, "Yesterday, May 16, I renounced my United States citizenship, thus terminating all obligations to the United States."

When Jolley was questioned about whether he regrets abandoning his citizenship, the youth exchanged glances with his 21-year-old wife, who accompanied him to Canada and replied:

"I guess we did what we thought we had to do at the time we did it . . . that doesn't mean we would do it again."

Mrs. Jolley said, "The consequences have a lot to do with it" when she was asked whether she would favor taking the same steps again. "You might be tempted just to ride along," she said. "A lot of Tommy's friends have gotten good teaching jobs . . . other jobs . . . he's been fired from two jobs since this started."

Sobbing briefly, Mrs. Jolley said, "It's such a horrible thing . . . It's so bad living under that. All they have to do is announce where you work and you're fired. It's instantaneous."

Mrs. Jolley, who asked that her first name not be used, plays an unusual role in the case. Jolley's attorney argues that since his client's wife is unquestionably a U.S. citizen, her husband is entitled to remain in this country as the husband of a U.S. citizen.

But the government argues that Jolley had no right whatsoever to return from Canada after giving up his citizenship specifically to avoid the draft.

Jolley said he has not actually received the order giving him 90 days to leave the country. He intends to consult his attorney and may appeal to the Board of Immigration Appeals in Washington and possibly to the federal courts after the order arrives.

Journalism Class Choses New 'Red And Black' Editors

By JAN CLIFTON, BEV THOMPSON and MARY TOLLIVER

The journalism class of CHS has chosen a new editorial committee to be in charge of the Red and Black page. Those who will be editing the next six issues of the school page are Dave Sadler, Wesley Jones, Ruth Ann Rihl, Frankie Carter, Bill Joyce and Mel Smith.

Dave Sadler, a senior, is in charge of the Red and Black page for Nov. 29. He lives with his parents Mr. and Mrs. George Sadler Sr. at 222 Mingo St. He has two brothers and a sister: George, Bob and Dorothy.

Dave's activities in school include being president of Curtin Callers. When asked his interests, he simply answered, "Life." Dave enjoys sports and music and dislikes "people putting on a false attitude."

He is enrolled in the college preparatory course and has been accepted at De Vry Institute of Technology. Dave feels that "journalism is a good class because it helps a person develop a variety of writing styles and aids in all other classes."

Wesley Jones, chosen to the new editorial committee, resides at 335 Edward Road with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Richard Jones.

Wesley is vice president of Curtin Callers at CHS. He states that he likes swimming, Alfred Hitchcock, butterscotch and says that he is a Democrat. He also enjoys reading horoscopes.

Wesley dislikes rhubarb and some cars. His hobbies include reading, loafing and writing. Wesley feels that "the Red and Black page encourages journalism in the school and broadens the student's view of education."

He attends the Northridge Church of Christ and plans to go to a career academy in Columbus to study broadcasting.

Ruth Ann Rihl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rihl, is a new member of the editorial committee. She resides with her parents at 1050 Sunshine St.

Ruth Ann participates in the CHS band, of which she is librarian, pep band, church choir, Luther League, 4-H, 4-H Band, and also teaches Sunday School.

She likes music, basketball, Princess, Bill and Joe. Her main dislike is people who are prejudiced with no reason. Ruth Ann enjoys playing the piano, bassoon and clarinet.

When asked what journalism meant to her, she replied, "Journalism is a class where I have learned to get a lot of work done in a short amount of time. It's not all work, though. There are moments when I can call it fun, fun, fun!"

In the future Ruth Ann would like to attend Otterbein in Westerville and study music education.

Frankie Carter, in charge of the Dec. 6, edition, resides with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Haynes at 1075 Georgia Road.

He is active in football, baseball and is a member of Stogie Club and the Methodist Church. Frankie's likes include sports and sports cars, and dislikes "girls giving me a bad time."

He is enrolled in the general course and wants to attend Kent State University or Eastern Kentucky University to major in business. When asked his opinion about Journalism, Frankie stated, "I think Journalism has taught me a lot. It is a very rewarding subject."

One of the Journalism students who is on the editorial committee is Bill Joyce. Bill resides at 462 N. Court St. with his parents Mr. and Mrs. T. Edward Joyce, his brother Tom and a sister Anne. He has a hobby which is watching old

Teacher Feature

By DAVE SADLER

"Students who I teach are my life." This is the serious attitude John Glanton took when he chose to become a teacher. He is one of the many new junior high teachers. His subjects are physics and social studies.

MR. JOHN GLANTON

John Blanton, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Webb, commutes to CHS daily from his home in Chillicothe. On his first arrival to the junior high, he was very pleased with the student body and the facilities available at the school.

"One should teach so that the material taught will be on the same level. This way everyone can understand it." The Cumberland College graduate stated, "The most important thing anyone can achieve is an education."

Among his accomplishments at Chillicothe High School were treasurer of student council, Varsity 'C', basketball, football and baseball. He also played basketball at Cumberland College in Kentucky.

Mr. Glanton's keen interest in sports prompted him to become a football and wrestling coach at the junior high building. His coaching philosophy is, "I think a person should be coached the way I, as a person, would want to be coached."

By DEBBIE HEISKELL

The new face seen around CHS halls recently has been Mrs. Elaine Kurtz. She is substituting for Mrs. Truman Eberly, an English teacher at Circleville High. Mrs. Eberly is currently in the hospital.

MRS. ELAINE KURTZ

Mrs. Kurtz resides at 551 N. Pickaway St. with her seven children, one of whom, Stephen, attends CHS as a junior.

Getting a late start, she began her college education in 1964, and was graduated this past August in the college of education. Mrs. Kurtz majored in history and English.

Commenting on substitution experience, Mrs. Kurtz said, "I have found that substituting is interesting work on the whole. More than that, of course, it is challenging work. If one can survive substitute teaching, one can survive anything!"

When asked her philosophy of teaching, she remarked, "My particular philosophy of education is simple; opening the doors and windows and letting in the light."

Sports Banquet Slated Dec. 5

The guest speaker for the banquet will be Mr. Jim Carlen, head football coach for the University of West Virginia. The master of ceremonies will be Jerry Leist from the local radio station.

School Spirit Requires City Moral Support

By DAVE SADLER

How many people realize that it takes the moral support from the community to carry on school activities? Sports especially need this favorite ingredient for a competitive spirit. It helps the team's attitude to know the public is behind them all the way.

The 1968-69 basketball team has the desire and the hustle to win their share of games. They have the attitude it takes to make true champions. The team makes up for the lack of height by good shooting, hustle, and most important, "guts."

With the needed support, the new coach, Garold Sowder, thinks the team will be a .5 plus. Don't base this year's team on the past teams. They will do their best to win and the community should try their hardest to give them the needed moral backing.

It's not whether you win or lose, but it's how you play the game. The 1968-69 basketball team needs support to aid in a good competitive attitude.

CHS Cagers Give Views On Season

By RICK SIMS

This year's unveiling of the Circleville Tigers basketball team Nov. 23, should be a pleasant surprise. Under new Head Coach Garold Sowder the team has a strong determination.

Some attitudes of the 1968-69 team members are:

Captain Dave Horst: "We are playing a running type of basketball this year. With hard work we should win quite a few games."

Phil Diehl: "Team attitude, spirit and competition is much better this year. I think there will be a tremendous improvement over last season."

Dave Hopkins: "Hard work plus hustle in practice are going to make us really up for our games."

Mike Neal: "Team morale is better this year, while hustle has given everyone the winning attitude."

Billy Thomas: "Desire to win has everybody working together; we should do a lot better."

Randy Halley: "I think we have a very good chance of having a good season. We are pretty short, but we make up for that with our speed. The team has been working pretty hard and I think we will end up with a good season."

Bryce Brown: "We have higher spirit, more hustle and a desire to win. This makes us a better all round team."

Ty Ankrom: "Everybody is working hard, but we need more spirit. If we keep on working we ought to do real well in the South Central Ohio League."

Mark Lutz: "We've got tremendous spirit and desire this year. If everyone keeps on working we will have a real good season."

Dick Walters: "Team spirit is high and the team is working together. We have confidence in ourselves, which is what we need to win."

Randy Dresbach: "Spirit of the entire team is better. There is a lot more hustle and everyone is looking forward to this season. We are going to win."

Charlie Jackson: "Spirit is twice as good as last year's. If we keep it up and put out 100 per cent effort, we should do excellent in the league."

Student Of the Week

By JACKIE ULLMAN

The new, smiling face which enlightens the halls of CHS belongs to Larry Wickline. He resides at 488 Stella Ave. with his sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Brunton.

LARRY WICKLINE

Larry attended Jackson High School last year, and when asked his opinion of Circleville High he replied, "I believe CHS is a great school where students have great opportunities offered to them. I've also found the students themselves to be very friendly — a gesture which I'm certain helps all new students adjust."

Government is Larry's favorite subject, and he also finds time for his hobbies of hunting and fishing.

When asked about his future plans, Larry stated that he would like to become a machinist.

Girls' Intramurals To Start Friday

Tours, Lab Highlight Trip For CHS Girl

By PATTY GLITT

Touring Chicago by bus was one of the highlights of Marion Brehmer's trip to Chicago, Oct. 20-23, for the Youth Conference on the Atom.

She also enjoyed meeting other students, visiting the Argonne National Laboratory, and the Museum of Science and Industry. Marion feels she gained more knowledge from experience, observation and discussion groups than lectures.

Marion, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Brehmer Jr., 895 Atwater Ave., thinks this experience will help to determine what field to pursue in college. Her plans now are to major in physical science or math. However nothing is definite at present she states.

Kansas City Tops Houston 24-10; Makes Jets Happy

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer
The New York Jets got a lovely desert with their Thanksgiving turkey—the American Football League's Eastern Division title.

The Jets coaches, players and their families gathered at Shea Stadium for the team's annual turkey dinner Thursday and between forksfuls, they watched Kansas City whip Houston 24-10, wiping out the Oilers' last chance to catch New York.

"I feel really great," said Coach Weeb Ewbank after the players doused him in champagne. The Jets cheered each Kansas City score and joined the Chiefs' fans in the countdown of the final seconds before popping the corks.

Green Bay, Dallas, Cleveland Are Favored

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Throw out the form sheets this weekend, men. This is the time of year when big money is hanging on every touchdown in games played in snow, rain and sunshine by clubs that have been hit by injuries and illness.

Before the weekend is over the Green Bay Packers could be back on top. The Los Angeles Rams and Baltimore Colts will have a hint if they're going down to the wire to that final game, Dec. 15.

Dallas may know if it will have to sweat it out with New York until the last day. Cleveland may be able to start selling tickets for the Dec. 21 Eastern Conference playoff.

Anybody who can escape with his skin this week deserves a standing ovation. Oh well, only two more weeks after this one. Let's try once more. All games are Sunday.

NFL
Baltimore 31, Atlanta 10—The Falcons made it close the first time, 28-20, but those Colts are sniffing that big Super Bowl money and not to be denied. The Colts will deck Bob Berry more times than Dempsey downed Firpo. Falcon pass defense target practice for Earl Morrall. Last home game at the old Colt corral.

New Orleans 17, Chicago 16—How do you figure this one? Saints playing quarterbacks who are hurting and Bears are back with Jack Concannon. Bears may have shot their last rocket in fist brawl with Cowboys last week. Charlie Durkee vs. Mac Percival, and may the better man emerge triumphant, as they say in the fight clubs.

Cleveland 31, New York 28—Browns have won six straight and Giants still are shaken by that heartbreaker in Los Angeles. Combination of Leroy Kelly, Ernie Green and passing of Bill Nelsen figure too much for Giants' defense, which is coming on strong but may not be ready for this test. Count on Fran Tarkenton to shake up those new men in the Browns' defense. He might even pull it off for desperate Giants. Stick around to the end.

Los Angeles 13, Minnesota 10—The weatherman could shake up those warm-weather Rams in hostile climate. Vikings never stopped hitting despite loss in Baltimore. If they had more offense, we'd pick Vikings. They still could pull it out but you don't run on those Rams.

St. Louis 28, Pittsburgh 21—Once again, without great conviction. The Steelers led 21-0 at halftime when they played 28-21 the Nov. 10. Steeler offense alive under Dick Shiner but interceptions are deadly. Cards' pass defense will need super effort, but it's a must win for St. Louis to stay alive.

Green Bay 24, San Francisco 14—The name of the game still is defense. The Packers have it, especially against the passing game. Ken Willard will run on them but they must shut off John Brodie's air game. Return of Bart Starr should give Packers a lift.

Dallas, Washington, Detroit and Philadelphia are idle after Thursday games.

AFL
Cincinnati 21, Boston 16—Patriots' leaky defense vulnerable to the run and Bengals have one of the best in rookie Paul Robinson with 912 yards. Neither club has a top flight quarterback, especially behind weak offensive lines.

New York 28, Miami 21—Joe Namath vs. Bob Griese should set up a pretty fair air war at Shea Stadium where Jets are ready to start tuning up for title game. Jets can't get by with one of those so-so efforts they sometimes turn in against lower clubs.

San Diego 27, Denver 14—With Dick Post and other Chargers lost to the Army, San Diego will have tough time sticking with Oakland and Kansas City down the stretch. This could be fatal unless John Hadl bounces back strong from New York disaster. Houston, Kansas City, Oakland and Cincinnati are idle after playing Thursday.

Army-Navy Grid Clash Is Readied

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Army is a two-touchdown favorite in Saturday's 69th football meeting with Navy, but the ghost of upsets past have made the Cadets wary of odds in this annual classic.

Everything points to an easy Army victory before the usual sellout crowd of 100,000 at John F. Kennedy Stadium. Army comes in with a 7-2 record against Navy's 2-7. Against mutual opponents Army won two of three. Navy one of three.

In sizing up the teams, Army has a decided edge in personnel, and has shown to advantage on both offense and defense. Navy has shown little but the typical Navy heart and all out effort against superior foes.

Army therefore should win, but anything could happen. Anyone care to remember 1948? Army arrived in Philadelphia unbeaten with eight straight victories. Navy was winless with eight straight defeats. Navy came up with a 21-21 tie.

Recall 1950? Army brought an 8-0 record into the traditional service game. Navy was 2-6. Again, the game had all the earmarks of a Cadet walkover. Navy won 14-2.

Let's go back to last year. Army was 8-1, the Middies a so-so 4-4-1. The pre-game experting had the Cadets a handy winner. A stirred Navy team, however, latched onto a fumble at the Navy 25 with 4:53 to play and held on to win 19-14.

O'Brien Is Leader In Case Scoring

CINCINNATI (AP) — Jim O'Brien can forget about uneasy feelings before Cincinnati Bearcat football games until next season.

The only thing the junior end and kicking specialist has to worry about now is whether he winds up as the nation's scoring leader for the season.

Although bothered by nervousness and an ulcer before each game and for the first few plays O'Brien tallied 142 points to hold the scoring lead after Cincinnati closed the season last Saturday.

Bill Fortner To Play At Ohio Northern

Bill Fortner, a senior from Ashville, will play forward position on the Ohio Northern University basketball team this season, announced coach Larry Michael. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Fortner, of 172 Powell St., Ashville.

Last season Fortner scored 142 points averaging 6.4 points per game. He brought down 84 rebounds, made 6 assists and scored 14 foul shots. He hit 49 per cent from the field and 51 per cent from the charity stripe. He stands at 6'3 and weighs 175.

At Ohio Northern he is a business administration major and member of the Lettermen's Club.

He graduated from Teays Valley High School where he was most valuable player and named outstanding player in the county.

Ohio Northern will open its season at home at 8 p.m. Monday, Dec. 2, in Taft Gym against Urbana College.

Irish-USC Collision Ends Season

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Notre Dame and the unbeaten Trojans of Southern California collide on the football field for the 40th time Saturday in their finale of the regular season.

The contest will be televised nationally—ABC at 4:30 p.m., EST—and viewed by some 75,000 fans in Memorial Coliseum.

For the Irish, there is the will to close out the campaign on a winning note. Coach Ara Parseghian's lads, as ex-coach Frank Leahy was fond of calling the players, have won seven games but they lost two big ones.

Those were to Purdue, 37-33, and Michigan State, 21-17.

Coach John McKay's Trojans are 9-0. They have won 19 of their last 20 games and are Rose Bowl-bound, with O.J. Simpson leading the charge to play Ohio State. If the Trojans needed more incentive, they got it this week when The Associated Press pollsters dropped them from No. 1 to No. 2 behind Ohio State.

"We still think we are No. 1," said Simpson, the Heisman Trophy winner.

Notre Dame has been damaged by injuries to key players. The most serious was the loss of quarterback Terry Hanratty. A sophomore, Joe Theismann, is his replacement. He guided ND past Georgia Tech 34-6 and Pittsburgh 56-7.

Jockey George Cusimano of Washington, D. C., weighs only 93 pounds.

ARDENT HUNTER—Being partially disabled doesn't stop Julius Demko of Medina, Ohio, from his favorite sport—hunting. Here he uses a walker, a lightweight metal support, which he carries into the field. Last year Julius bagged 14 rabbits.

Cordero To Ride 7 Straight Races

SAN JUAN (AP) — Angel Cordero Jr., in a close duel with Alvaro Pineda for the national jockey championship, will come to Puerto Rico from New York and ride in all seven rides at El Comandante race track Sunday.

Cordero who leads Pineda by one victory, 289 to 288, has been riding at Aqueduct. Pineda is riding at Bay Meadows in California.

Texas Tops Aggies; Eyes Bowl

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
Houston and Florida State play a college football game tonight in the Gator Bowl but their high-powered offenses may turn it into the Scoreboard Bowl.

The game is the only one on tonight's schedule. Four were played Thursday as two bowl berths were settled and 16 more are on tap Saturday as the regular season comes to a close, save for the Dec. 7 meeting in University Park, Pa., between Penn State and Syracuse.

Texas won its way into a Cotton Bowl date against Tennessee by trouncing traditional rival Texas A&M 35-14 Thursday. The victory gained the Longhorns a share of the Southwest Conference championship with Arkansas but Texas goes to the Cotton Bowl by virtue of a 39-29 win over the Razorbacks. Arkansas settled for the Sugar Bowl against unbeaten Georgia.

Eagles Win, But May Lose 1st Draft Pick

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
Joe Kuharich, perhaps the most troubled man in the ranks of pro football head coaches, finally won one. Which could make him a loser.

Kuharich, however, didn't seem concerned with the possibility of losing the first draft pick—probably Heisman Trophy winner O.J. Simpson—after his Philadelphia Eagles snapped an 11-game losing string Thanksgiving Day with a 12-0 victory over Detroit.

"The draft is beyond here," Kuharich said after the longest losing string of the pro season ended in the mud and goo at Detroit.

"We play the season. We're concerned with winning and playing a game and that's all we work towards now."

Dallas, meanwhile, clinched at least a tie for the top spot in the National Football League's Capitol Division with a 29-20 verdict over Washington in the only other NFL game played—a verdict that left Redskins Coach Otto Graham hopping mad.

"I thought the officials stole the game from us," Graham said after the Redskins were assessed 124 yards in penalties, many of them at crucial times.

In the NFL Sunday, Atlanta is at Baltimore, St. Louis at Pittsburgh, Green Bay at San Francisco, Los Angeles at Minnesota, New York at Cleveland and Chicago at New Orleans.

Jim Ninowski, subbing for the ailing Sonny Jurgensen, passed for three touchdowns and a 20-19 Washington lead before Dallas rallied and clinched at least a share of the Capitol title. To gain a tie, second-place New York must win its three remaining games and Dallas must lose its last two.

Elsewhere, Liberty Bowl-bound Virginia Tech walloped VMI 55-6, Tulsa sent Wichita State to a winless season 23-7 and, in a night game, Louisiana Tech, which is in the Grantland Rice Bowl, knocked off its fourth major opponent 42-24.

Saturday's slate is highlighted by the meeting in Los Angeles between second-ranked Southern California and No. 9 Notre Dame. Other top attractions include Army-Navy, Georgia Tech-Georgia, Tennessee-Vanderbilt, Oklahoma-Oklahoma State, Alabama-Auburn and Arizona State-Arizona.

Tonight's pairing should be a wild one. Houston, ranked 10th, is the top offensive team in the nation with an all-time mark of 5,185 yards. The Cougars also lead in scoring with an average of 45 points a game.

Paul Gipson is fifth in rushing with 1,386 yards and the Ken Bailey-to-Elmo Wright combination is a passing threat. The Cougars have slaughtered Idaho 77-3 and Tulsa 100-6 in their last two starts. To make matters worse, they rank fifth nationally in total defense.

"We've got a chance against Houston," said Coach Bill Peterson of Florida State, "in spite of the fact they have what may just be the best college football team in America."

The Seminoles have a potent air attack of their own. Flanker Ron Sellers ranks this season in receiving and has gained more career yards than anyone in history, 3,384. Bill Cappleman does the throwing.

Texas raced to a 35-0 halftime lead over the Texas Aggies behind a balanced attack and a defense that intercepted five of Ed Hargett's passes. Chris Gilbert gained 85 yards in 25 carries and finished his regular season career third among all-time runners with 3,231 yards.

Quarterback Wayne Humphries passed for three touchdowns in his first varsity start to lead Virginia Tech over VMI. The defense picked off four passes and recovered two fumbles as the Gobblers made Turkey Day a field day.

Mike Stripling completed 26 of 51 passes for 336 yards and two touchdowns as Tulsa turned back stubborn Wichita State. The Hurricanes led only 3-0 but Stripling threw scoring passes of 16 yards to Harry Wood and seven to Les Bogers in the final period.

76ers Top Lakers With 122-107 Score
The Philadelphia 76ers might not be doing quite as well without Wilt Chamberlain as they did with him, but they are doing very well against him.

The 76ers ran their record to 2-0 against the Wilt Chamberlain-led Los Angeles Lakers with a 122-107 victory Thursday night that put them only 1 1/2 games out of the lead in the Eastern Division of the National Basketball Association.

In the only other NBA game, Seattle topped Milwaukee 115-103 on the West Coast.

Lew Alcindor To Be Better
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Lew Alcindor has been a consensus All-American in his sophomore and junior years. Can anyone expect him to get better?

His coach can.

John Wooden says the giant but agile UCLA center, now 21, is better than ever and will enjoy playing basketball more this year.

"The one thing you notice about Lewis this season is that he is more at ease," Wooden said. "He's going to enjoy playing this game a lot more."

"He's a lot stronger and he is more sure of himself now because there isn't quite so much pressure on him. He can't help but be better."

Kansas City Tops Houston 24-10; Makes Jets Happy

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer
The New York Jets got a lovely desert with their Thanksgiving turkey—the American Football League's Eastern Division title.
The Jet coaches, players and their families gathered at Shea Stadium for the team's annual turkey dinner Thursday and between forkfuls, they watched Kansas City whip Houston 24-10, wiping out the Oilers' last chance to catch New York.

"I feel really great," said Coach Weeb Ewbank after the players doused him in champagne. The Jets cheered each Kansas City score and joined the Chiefs' fans in the countdown of the final seconds before popping the corks.

Meanwhile, the Chiefs remained tied for the Western Division lead with Oakland which just got by Buffalo, 13-10. Both the Raiders and Kansas City are 10-2 with two games remaining. On Sunday, Miami is at New York, Cincinnati at Boston and San Diego at Denver.

Len Dawson could have won an Emmy for the Jets for the way he performed on their television screen against the Oilers. The Kansas City quarterback picked Houston's secondary apart, hurling three long touchdown passes and completing 17 of 23 attempts for 253 yards. He hit 10 in a row over one stretch.

Dawson found Frank Pitts with TD tosses of 33 and 43 yards and connected with Mike Garrett for a 37-yarder.

Houston's Pete Beathard was a 66-yard TD pass to Jim Beirne but the Oilers never threatened again following that score.

The victory gave the Chiefs about a three-hour solo hold on first place in the West. But the Raiders stayed with them by holding off Buffalo in their West Coast game.

George Atkins, a rookie defensive back, was the hero for the puncheon Raiders. He intercepted two passes setting up 10 quick points in the third period and then jarred Buffalo's Ed Rutkowski into a fumble that Warren Powers recovered on the Raider one-yard line with less than three minutes to play, ending the Bills' last march.

to the run and Bengals have one of the best in rookie Paul Robinson with 912 yards. Neither club has a top flight quarterback, especially behind weak offensive lines.

New York 28, Miami 21—Joe Namath vs. Bob Griese should set up a pretty fair air war at Shea Stadium where Jets are ready to start tuning up for title game. Jets can't get by with one of those so-so efforts they sometimes turn in against lower clubs.

San Diego 27, Denver 14—With Dick Post and other Chargers lost to the Army, San Diego will have tough time sticking with Oakland and Kansas City down the stretch. This could be fatal unless John Hadl bounces back strong from New York disaster.

Houston, Kansas City, Oakland and Cincinnati are idle after playing Thursday.

Army-Navy Grid Clash Is Readied

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Army is a two-touchdown favorite in Saturday's 69th football meeting with Navy, but the ghost of upsets past have made the Cadets wary of odds in this annual classic.

Everything points to an easy Army victory before the usual sellout crowd of 100,000 at John F. Kennedy Stadium. Army comes in with a 7-2 record against Navy's 2-7. Against mutual opponents Army won two of three, Navy one of three.

In sizing up the teams, Army has a decided edge in personnel, and has shown to advantage on both offense and defense. Navy has shown little but the typical Navy heart and all out effort against superior foes.

Army therefore should win, but anything could happen.

Anyone care to remember 1948? Army arrived in Philadelphia unbeaten with eight straight victories. Navy was winless with eight straight defeats. Navy came up with a 21-1 tie.

Recall 1950? Army brought an 8-0 record into the traditional service game. Navy was 2-6. Again, the game had all the earmarks of a Cadet walkover. Navy won 14-2.

Let's go back to last year. Army was 8-1, the Middies a so-so 4-4-1. The pre-game experting had the Cadets a handy winner. A stirred Navy team, however, latched onto a fumble at the Navy 25 with 4:53 to play and held on to win 19-14.

O'Brien Is Leader In Case Scoring

CINCINNATI (AP) — Jim O'Brien can forget about uneasy feelings before Cincinnati Bearcat football games until next season.

The only thing the junior end and kicking specialist has to worry about now is whether he winds up as the nation's scoring leader for the season.

Although bothered by nervousness and an ulcer before each game and for the first few plays O'Brien tallied 142 points to hold the scoring lead after Cincinnati closed the season last Saturday.

Bill Fortner To Play At Ohio Northern

Bill Fortner, a senior from Ashville, will play forward position on the Ohio Northern University basketball team this season, announced coach Larry Michael. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Fortner, of 172 Powell St., Ashville.

Last season Fortner scored 142 points averaging 6.4 points per game. He brought down 84 rebounds, made 6 assists and scored 14 foul shots. He hit 49 per cent from the field and 51 per cent from the charity stripe. He stands at 6'3 and weighs 175.

At Ohio Northern he is a business administration major and member of the Lettermen's Club.

He graduated from Teays Valley High School where he was most valuable player and named outstanding player in the county.

Ohio Northern will open its season at home at 8 p.m. Monday, Dec. 2, in Taft Gym against Urbana College.

Irish-USC Collision Ends Season

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Notre Dame and the unbeaten Trojans of Southern California collide on the football field for the 40th time Saturday in their finale of the regular season.

The contest will be televised nationally—ABC at 4:30 p.m., EST—and viewed by some 75,000 fans in Memorial Coliseum.

For the Irish, there is the will to close out the campaign on a winning note. Coach Ara Parseghian's lads, as ex-coach Frank Leahy was fond of calling the players, have won seven games but they lost two big ones.

Those were to Purdue, 37-33, and Michigan State, 21-17.

Coach John McKay's Trojans are 9-0. They have won 19 of their last 20 games and are Rose Bowl-bound, with O.J. Simpson leading the charge to play Ohio State. If the Trojans needed more incentive, they got it this week when The Associated Press pollsters dropped them from No. 1 to No. 2 behind Ohio State.

"We still think we are No. 1," said Simpson, the Heisman Trophy winner.

Notre Dame has been damaged by injuries to key players. The most serious was the loss of quarterback Terry Hanratty. A sophomore, Joe Theismann, is his replacement. He guided ND past Georgia Tech 34-6 and Pittsburgh 56-7.

Jockey George Cusimano of Washington, D. C., weighs only 93 pounds.

ARDENT HUNTER—Being partially disabled doesn't stop Julius Demko of Medina, Ohio, from his favorite sport—hunting. Here he uses a walker, a lightweight metal support, which he carries into the field. Last year Julius bagged 14 rabbits.

Cordero To Ride 7 Straight Races

SAN JUAN (AP) — Angel Cordero Jr., in a close duel with Alvaro Pineda for the national jockey championship, will come to Puerto Rico from New York and ride in all seven rides at El Comandante race track Sunday.

Cordero who leads Pineda by one victory, 289 to 288, has been riding at Aqueduct. Pineda is riding at Bay Meadows in California.

Texas Tops Aggies; Eyes Bowl

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
Houston and Florida State play a college football game tonight in the Gator Bowl but their high-powered offenses may turn it into the Scoreboard Bowl.

The game is the only one on tonight's schedule. Four were played Thursday as two bowl berths were settled and 16 more are on tap Saturday as the regular season comes to a close, save for the Dec. 7 meeting in University Park, Pa., between Penn State and Syracuse.

Texas won its way into a Cotton Bowl date against Tennessee by trouncing traditional rival Texas A&M 35-14 Thursday.

The victory gained the Longhorns a share of the Southwest Conference championship with Arkansas but Texas goes to the Cotton Bowl by virtue of a 39-29 win over the Razorbacks. Arkansas settled for the Sugar Bowl against unbeaten Georgia.

Elsewhere, Liberty Bowl-bound Virginia Tech walloped VMI 55-6, Tulsa sent Wichita State to a winless season 23-7 and, in a night game, Louisiana Tech, which is in the Grantland Rice Bowl, knocked off its fourth major opponent 42-24.

The Philadelphia 76ers might not be doing quite as well without Wilt Chamberlain as they did with him, but they are doing very well against him.

The 76ers ran their record to 2-0 against the Wilt Chamberlain-led Los Angeles Lakers with a 122-107 victory Thursday night that put them only 1 1/2 games out of the lead in the Eastern Division of the National Basketball Association.

In the only other NBA game, Seattle topped Milwaukee 115-103 on the West Coast.

Green Bay, Dallas, Cleveland Are Favored

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Throw out the form sheets this weekend, men. This is the time of year when big money is hanging on every touchdown in games played in snow, rain and sunshine by clubs that have been hit by injuries and illness.

Before the weekend is over the Green Bay Packers could be back on top. The Los Angeles Rams and Baltimore Colts will have a hint if they're going down to the wire to that final game, Dec. 15.

Dallas may know if it will have to sweat it out with New York until the last day. Cleveland may be able to start selling tickets for the Dec. 21 Eastern Conference playoff.

Anybody who can escape with his skin this week deserves a standing ovation. Oh well, only two more weeks after this one. Let's try once more. All games are Sunday.

NFL
Baltimore 31, Atlanta 10—The Falcons made it close the first time, 28-20, but those Colts are sniffing that big Super Bowl money and not to be denied. The Colts will deck Bob Berry more times than Dempsey downed Firpo. Falcon pass defense target practice for Earl Morrall. Last home game at the old Colt corral.

New Orleans 17, Chicago 16—How do you figure this one? Saints playing quarterbacks who are hurting and Bears are back with Jack Concannon. Bears may have shot their last rocket in fist brawl with Cowboys last week. Charlie Durkee vs. Mac Percival, and may the better man emerge triumphant, as they say in the fight clubs.

Cleveland 31, New York 28—Browns have won six straight and Giants still are shaken by that heartbreaker in Los Angeles. Combination of Leroy Kelly, Ernie Green and passing of Bill Nelsen figure too much for Giants' defense, which is coming on strong but may not be ready for this test. Count on Fran Tarkenton to shake up those new men in the Browns' defense. He might even pull it off for desperate Giants. Stick around to the end.

Los Angeles 13, Minnesota 10—The weatherman could shake up those warm-weather Rams in hostile climate. Vikings never stopped hitting despite loss in Baltimore. If they had more offense, we'd pick Vikings. They still could pull it out, but you don't run on those Rams.

St. Louis 28, Pittsburgh 21—Once again, without great conviction. The Steelers led 21-0 at halftime when they played 28-28 tie Nov. 10. Steeler offense alive under Dick Shiner but interceptions are deadly. Cards' pass defense will need super effort, but it's a must win for St. Louis to stay alive.

Green Bay 24, San Francisco 14—The name of the game still is defense. The Packers have it, especially against the passing game. Ken Willard will run on them but they must shut off John Brodie's air game. Return of Bart Starr should give Packers a lift.

Dallas, Washington, Detroit and Philadelphia are idle after Thursday games.

AFL
Cincinnati 21, Boston 16—Patriots' leaky defense vulnerable

Eagles Win, But May Lose 1st Draft Pick

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
Joe Kuharich, perhaps the most troubled man in the ranks of pro football head coaches, finally won one. Which could make him a loser.

Kuharich, however, didn't seem concerned with the possibility of losing the first draft pick—probably Heisman Trophy winner O.J. Simpson—after his Philadelphia Eagles snapped an 11-game losing string Thanksgiving Day with a 12-0 victory over Detroit.

"The draft is beyond here," Kuharich said after the longest losing string of the pro season ended in the mud and goo at Detroit.

"We play the season. We're concerned with winning and playing a game and that's all we work towards now."

Dallas, meanwhile, clinched at least a tie for the top spot in the National Football League's Capitol Division with a 29-20 verdict over Washington in the only other NFL game played—a verdict that left Redskin Coach Otto Graham hopping mad.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Marv Moorehead, who led Upper Arlington to its second straight Class AA championship, and Matt Midea, who guided Newark Catholic to the small school title, are the Coaches of the Year in the Central District.

They were chosen by a panel of writers who picked the All-Central District high school football team for The Associated Press.

Zane Trace Wins 7th Cage Tilt

The Zane Trace Pioneers won their seventh game of the season Wednesday night by soundly beating the Huntington Huntsmen, 77-55.

Jeff Reisinger was again high scorer for the Pioneers with 14 field goals and two free throws for 30 points.

The Huntsmen were never ahead in the tilt although they gave the Pioneers a good showing. After a poor start in the first quarter, Huntington closed the lead on Zane Trace and managed to pull within four points. This was the closest they were to come to the explosive Pioneers.

For the losers, Cottrill was the high scorer with five field goals and five free throws for 15 points.

The Zane Trace little Pioneers made it a perfect night by beating the Huntsmen 71-46.

Bengals Hope For 4th Win Against Boston's Patriots

CINCINNATI (AP) — Banking on the breakaway abilities of Paul Robinson and the end of a defense breakdown, the Cincinnati Bengals hope to pocket their fourth victory when they go against Boston Sunday in an American Football League duel.

If the Bengals mar the Patriots' closing game of the season, they become the first expansioners in the pro world to win four in a season.

"We'll have to put up a better defense this week or we'll have plenty of trouble again," warned Coach Paul Brown, referring to the 34-0 battering Cincinnati took from the Oakland Raiders last week.

The Bengals surrendered 596 yards and 33 first downs to the defending AFL champions.

Through Brown's eyes, how do the Patriots, 3-8, view Cincinnati? "I guess they figure we're meat on a platter," he laughed.

"But I'll tell you, they can be tough. Do you know they held Kansas City to one yard per try on running plays and Bob Holmes to exactly 27 yards?"

Fullback Jim Nance and linebacker Nickerson Buoniconti, both sidelined on and off with injuries, are expected to be back in the Boston lineup. Then there's rookie Tom Sherman, the pinpoint passer from Penn State, with whom the Bengals will have to contend.

Robinson, Bengal rookie halfback, is making the big push to crack the 1,000-yard mark. He leads the league in rushing with 912 yards in 192 carries and he could become the first AFL rookie to go over the mark since 1962 when Cookie Gilchrist registered 1,096 yards.

Oakland held Robinson to 73 yards, the first time in four games he did not top 100.

Brown will go with quarterback John Stofa, who shared last week's duties with Dewey Warren when Sam Wyche left with a broken ankle.

The Bengals' kicking job in the last two games of the season will be handled by Tex Keeling, a rookie from Samford College. He replaces Dale Livingston who entered the Marines this week for six months' active duty.

Also departed from the Bengals' lineup is rookie Warren McVea, who joined Livingston for his own six-month leatherneck pitch.

In his split end spot, Brown activated Ed McCall, the last remaining member of the Bengals' Taxi Squad.

All-Central District Grid Team Members Chosen

JOHN FURNISS

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Marv Moorehead, who led Upper Arlington to its second straight Class AA championship, and Matt Midea, who guided Newark Catholic to the small school title, are the coaches of the year in the Central District.

They were chosen by a panel of writers who picked the All-Central District high school football team for The Associated Press.

Ted McNulty of Upper Arlington and Don Caldwell of Columbus South were the AA Back and Lineman of the Year. Class A honors went to back Dean Rodenbeck of Newark Catholic and Pat Shannon of Sunbury Big Walnut.

The Class AA first team offense:

Zane Trace Wins 7th Cage Tilt

The Zane Trace Pioneers won their seventh game of the season Wednesday night by soundly beating the Huntington Huntsmen, 71-55.

Jeff Reisinger was again high scorer for the Pioneers with 14 field goals and two free throws for 30 points.

The Huntsmen were never ahead in the tilt although they gave the Pioneers a good showing. After a poor start in the first quarter, Huntington closed the lead on Zane Trace and managed to pull within four points. This was the closest they were to come to the explosive Pioneers.

For the losers, Cottrill was the high scorer with five field goals and five free throws for 15 points.

The Zane Trace little Pioneers made it a perfect night by beating the Huntsmen 71-46.

TB Group Schedules X-Ray Unit

Contributions for Christmas Seals last year in Pickaway County provided tuberculin skin tests for pupils in all county and city schools by registered nurses.

Contributions also provided for the upcoming visit of the Chest x-ray Mobile Unit throughout the county and city.

The skin test materials and the extra registered nurses who carried out the program were financed by the local Pickaway County Tuberculosis and Health Association due to gifts for Christmas seals last year. The donation for Christmas seals in the area this year will determine the program that can be carried out next year.

Following is the schedule for the chest x-ray unit. Persons tested in schools who reacted positively to the test should have rays. Children under 18 years of age must have proof of the positive reaction when they come to the mobile unit. A negative reaction to the skin test shows that the individual does not need an X-ray.

TB Group Schedules X-Ray Unit

Contributions for Christmas Seals last year in Pickaway County provided tuberculin skin tests for pupils in all county and city schools by registered nurses.

Contributions also provided for the upcoming visit of the Chest x-ray Mobile Unit throughout the county and city.

The skin test materials and the extra registered nurses who carried out the program were financed by the local Pickaway County Tuberculosis and Health Association due to gifts for Christmas seals last year. The donation for Christmas seals in the area this year will determine the program that can be carried out next year.

Following is the schedule for the chest x-ray unit. Persons tested in schools who reacted positively to the test should have rays. Children under 18 years of age must have proof of the positive reaction when they come to the mobile unit. A negative reaction to the skin test shows that the individual does not need an X-ray.

Yule Stamp Under Fire

NEW YORK (AP) — The American Jewish Congress has protested that the 1968 Christmas stamp issued by the U.S. Post Office violates the First Amendment guarantee of the separation of church and state. The 6-cent stamp shows a detail from "The Annunciation" — a work by the 15th-century Flemish master, Jan van Eyck, depicting the Angel Gabriel telling the Virgin Mary she has been chosen to bear the infant Jesus.

The stamp shows only the angel in a robe of crimson and gold. The AJC said Thursday in a letter to Postmaster General W. Marvin Watson that when Christmas stamps were first issued in 1962 they showed "relatively innocuous" designs such as holly wreath.

But, the letter declared, the Van Eyck painting celebrates "the dogma of the Virgin birth" and charged: "This amounts to government support of specific religious ideas even when those ideas are antithetical to the religious beliefs of others."
